THAW GOES BACK TO THE ASYLUM

Ordered Recommitted to Matteawan by the Court.

MILLS HOLDS HIM AN INSANE MAN

Who Would Be a Menace If Permitted at Liberty.

Holds That He Is Afflicted by Paranoia When He Kills White and Has Not Yet Recovered—Censures Matteawan Officials—News of Denial of Plea Is a Shock to Thaws. Statement by Attorney.

White Plains, Aug. 12.—Harry Kendall Thaw was today sent back to Matteawan to be held as an insane man. Justice Isaac Mills today filed his decision, denying Thaw's application for release, and ordering him returned to the mad-house from which he has been fighting for his freedom ever since he was committed there by Justice Dowling at the end of his second murder trial, when he was acquitted on the grounds of insanity.

Justice Mills' decision was a voluminous document, reviewing all the testimony taken at the three-weeks trial which ended Saturday.

Justice Mills' decision was filed with the clerk of the court at 9 o'clock this morning. It is believed that Thaw will immediately recommence his fight for liberty, his plan being to secure some justice who will hear his writ of habeas corpus before a jury. Justice Mills' former refusal to allow jury trial is now in the higher courts on appeal. Thaw's attorney desires more than anything else a jury trial; believing that in that way they can free the prisoner.

After reviewing the testimony the decision announces Justice Mills' conclusion, as follows:

Conclusion of Decision.

First—The insanity of which Harry K. Thaw was afflicted on June 25, 1906, when he killed Stanford White, was of the kind known as chronic delusive insanity or paranoia.

Second—Harry K. Thaw has not yet recovered from his insanity.

In support of his first conclusion, Justice Mills quotes the testimony regarding Thaw's ancestry and the testimony regarding his boyhood. In this connection he brings Thaw down to the time of his manhood and says:

"Although Thaw was himself evidently far from a moral man and was engaged in practices of a perverted nature, as revealed by the testimony of the Merrill woman, who appears creditable, he gave absolute credence to the tales told him about White."

Justice Mills says Thaw's belief in the stories of White's practices is plainly a delusion, not based on facts as Thaw's attorneys sought to show.

Another Delusion.

Mills also characterizes as delusions Thaw's belief that his lawyers and alienists were engaged in a conspiracy to railroad him at Matteawan.

All of these "delusions," Mills declares, plainly indicate the paranoiac.

Justice Mills' second conclusion is based entirely upon the testimony of alienists that paranoia is incurable. Justice Mills says regarding Thaw's treatment at Matteawan:

"The court is by no means satisfied with the treatment which Thaw has received at Matteawan since his return there in October last after his unsuccessful attempt in the courts then to obtain his freedom. No one could help being moved by the deep and manifestly unfeigned distress of the mother, when as a witness, she narrated that treatment. It must be understood that Thaw is not at the hospital as a criminal to undergo punishment. The jury, the supreme authority in the matter, has by its verdict declared him innocent of any crime in the matter.

Should Have Fair Treatment.

"The jury's verdict must be respected at least by all public officials. In the hospital he must be regarded as an unfortunate person afflicted with mental derangement, there not to be punished for any crime, but solely to be cared for, protected and guarded so that he may not injure another or himself, but always with the distinct hope that he may be cured ultimately, however great or small the hope may really be. It is well, doubtlessly, that care should be exercised by the authorities that he be not favored because of wealth and social position of his family. It is equally well, however, that care be exercised that he be not treated any worse upon these accounts."

The decision ends with the statement that "the enlargement of Harry K. Thaw will be dangerous to the community, and he is therefore remanded to Matteawan asylum, whence he was produced before this court."

Thaws Get the News.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 12—Sullen and silent in his cell at the White Plains jail, Harry Kendall Thaw received the news that he must go back to Matteawan and that his last fight for freedom had ended in defeat. The news seemed to stun him, and he asked to be let alone. He would talk to no one, but asked that his attorney, Charles Morschauser, be sent for at once.

In the country hotel a few blocks away from the jail, Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw, the prisoner's mother; the Countess of Yarmouth, his sister, and Josiah Thaw, the brother, sat together in the little sitting-room where the news was brought to them. The family will make one more visit to Thaw in the jail here before he is sent back to Matteawan.

Justice Mills will hear motions on his decision at his chambers in Mt. Vernon tomorrow. The Thaw family believed Harry would be freed, and the decision came as such a shock to them that they have not yet decided what they will do to oppose the further incarceration of the prisoner.

Sister Visits Thaw.

Alice Thaw, the former Countess of Yarmouth, was the first member of the Thaw family to meet Thaw. She walked from the hotel, and when she arrived at the jail, Thaw was nervously pacing the corridors. Thaw embraced his sister, and she broke down and wept. They withdrew into his cell, and talked together for fifteen minutes. Then the countess hurried back to her mother at the hotel, warding off a squad of photographers with her parasol. She refused to discuss the interview with her brother. There was no crowd around the court-house when the decision was rendered. A few anxious women were in Justice Mills' courtroom, but they were disappointed as,

MURDERED ON CROWDED CAR

Polish Love Affair Ends in a Tragedy.

POLISH MAID IS SHOT TO DEATH

Murderer Then Attempts To Take His Life.

Tragedy Occurs in Chicago Early This Morning—Blood from the Wounds Spurts Over Passengers, Some of Whom Are Injured in the Wild Rush To Escape Through the Doors of the Car.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The love affair of a young Pole and a young Polish girl reached a tragic conclusion this morning when Thomas Katsonea, twenty-six, murdered Victoria Kovanec, twenty-two, while the couple were riding on a crowded street car on the West Side, and then he fired a bullet into his own head. The girl was killed. He may recover.

There was a wild panic on the car following the shooting, and several persons were slightly injured in the rush for the doors.

Katsonea is proprietor of a restaurant on the West Side, and the girl was formerly employed there as a waitress. Katsonea fell in love with her, and asked her to marry him. She spurned his advances and left his employment.

This morning the couple met on a crowded car and engaged in a conversation. Suddenly, before other passengers could interfere, Katsonea drew a revolver and fired two bullets into the girl's head. The blood spurted upon passengers nearby, and she fell to the floor dead.

Before the horrified passengers could interfere, Katsonea placed the revolver to his own head, and fired a bullet into his right cheek. He attempted to fire again, but was overpowered and was hurried to a hospital, where physicians pronounced his wound not fatal.

OLD SOL PUTS VETERANS OUT

Many Are Prostrated During Grand Army Parade.

THE LIVING FLAG IS ABANDONED

War Prisoners Recall Pictures of the Strife.

One Hundred Thousand People Watch Seven Thousand Heroes of the Civil War March Through the Streets of the Mormon Capital. Illinois Furnishes Largest and Arkansas the Smallest Delegation.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 12.—The ranks of the veterans who took part in the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, the feature of the forty-third encampment, were thinned out by the intense heat which prevailed. So oppressive were the sun's rays that the living flag of schoolchildren was abandoned.

At least 100 children and 20 old soldiers were taken from the street. Many of the victims, young and old, recovered as soon as they were placed in the shade. Those treated at the emergency stations numbered 45, 15 of them Grand Army men and 30 children. There were no fatalities. Three relief stations, attended by trained nurses, insured prompt and capable aid for all sufferers. The hours of the parade were the hottest of the day. When the column got under way the weather bureau thermometer registered 85 degrees.

Parade a Great Success.

Notwithstanding the discomfort the parade was a great success. The old soldiers, walking four abreast, had the complete right of way. Fully 100,000 persons saw, or tried to see, the spectacle.

The Nebraska delegation carried ears of yellow corn. The Minnesotans were bearers of sheafs of wheat, and the Green Mountain boys of Vermont wore sprigs of pine in their hat bands.

Arkansas had the distinction of sending the smallest division; there were but four wearers of her badge. Illinois made the largest numerical showing.

At the rear came a little band whose banners evoked the darkest pictures of the great civil war. On the white background the watchers read "Libby," "Andersonville," "Macon," "Tyler," "Belle Isle" and the names of other Confederate prisons. The division consisted of the former prisoners of war. It is estimated 7,000 veterans took part in the parade.

Revolver Scorer Captain W. A. Morrall, inspector of small arms practice of the Fourth infantry, Columbus, won the Bell medal for making the highest score made by a commissioned officer in the state individual revolver match.

Murdered and Robbed.

Danville, Ky., Aug. 12—James H. Engelman, night operator and agent at Kings Mountain, on the Cincinnati Southern railway, south of here, was murdered and robbed last night. The other operators along the line heard the Kings Mountain call at 2 o'clock and a half hour later Engelman was found dead in a pool of blood by the crew on a freight train.

ADVERTISEMENT OBJECTIONABLE

The Last Line Did the Business for It.

London, Aug. 12.—A week ago gangs of bill-stickers began putting up posters on billboards and walls all over London. They put up 40,000 of them.

The paste was no sooner dry than other gangs of men, working feverishly day and night, commenced pulling them down. They are still at it. The posters have been officially objected to.

The advertiser did not seem to offend anybody in the wording of his poster; he simply followed time-honored custom, but there are some things in England you can't advertise in that way.

Pictorially the poster represented a hand holding up tilted a tin box with a sieve covered from which was pouring a stream of powder. Several insects of various kinds, coming in contact with the powder, turned over, and without fuss at all died.

There are two lines of type, one above and the other below the picture. The top line says that somebody's powder is guaranteed to administer instant death to cockroaches, fleas, bedbugs and other vermin. The bottom line remarks: "Supplied to his majesty, the king."

YEGGMEN BLOW A POSTOFFICE SAFE

Get Five Hundred Dollars in Money and Stamps.

Cleveland, Aug. 12.—Yeggmen blew the safe in the Collinwood postoffice sub-station early today and escaped with $500 in stamps and money. Although the postoffice is almost directly across Collamer avenue from the Collinwood town hall, in which is the village police headquarters, not a soul in the village heard the explosion or knew of the robbery until time for work.

The safe-crackers evidently were frightened away before they could complete their work, for several thousand dollars' worth of registered mail in an inner compartment of the safe was untouched.

Yesterday was payday at the Lake Shore shops and the postoffice did much registry business before it closed at 7 p. m.

LITTLE HOVEL FULL OF GOLD

A Hermit and Supposed Pauper Proves Wealthy.

$25,000 FOUND IN SMALL COIN

Bankbooks Show as Much More on Deposit.

Makes a Fortune by Begging and Selling Mint to Saloons—Supposed To Be Worth from $75,000 to $100,000—Goes Wrong Mentally and Is Taken to an Asylum—Hidden Wealth Collected by Officers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—Peter Liebauch, who has lived as a hermit for years, is today confined in a asylum as insane, while his little hovel where he has lived for the last thirty-five years is being searched further for the great wealth that is supposed to be hidden there. Yesterday after a search by officers $25,000 in small coins, bills and gold, was hauled away in a wagon, while bankbooks indicating that Liebauch had at least $25,000 deposited in various North Side banks, were found secreted about the house. It is believed the fortune will reach $75,000 or $100,000.

Liebauch has been a nieghborhood character for years, and was supposed to be penniless and an object of charity. What money he did not beg he earned by selling mint to saloons. Of late, Liebaugh has been weakening mentally. Yesterday officers went to his house in an effort to arrest him and turn him over to the charity societies. A search of his hovel followed, and from every old piece of dust-covered clothing, cigar box, can, trunk and bureau about the house the money fairly streamed out when they were opened. Most of the money was in small coins.

THE BOX OFFICE IS AFTER TAFT

The President Is Sought as an Attraction.

MUCH IN DEMAND ON EVERY OCCASION

Be It Church Fair, Party Picnic or Clambake.

Secretary Carpenter Stands Between His Chief and Those Who Would Exploit the Latter for Money-Making Purposes—The President's Auto Speed Stunts Alarm Citizens of Beverly.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 12.—The box office is after President Taft again. Ever since the 4th of March, the box office has terrorized the president, and now, at the vacation home where he expected to enjoy a few days of relief and rest, the monster is on his trail once more. Every political, social, fraternal or other organization within fifty miles of the summer capitol is planning to give a clam bake, picnic, outing or shindig of some sort with the president as the central figure.

"We are deeply in debt with our Sunday ball," said one political gentleman who called on Secretary Carpenter, "and we feel sure that if the president realized the situation, he would willingly attend the picnic we are to give at Point of Pines. His attendance will attract a great many people."

"Yes, I know," sadly replied Carpenter, "and the president also knows to his sorrow."

"Oh say not his sorrow," exclaimed the clerical gentleman, "and may I call it arranged and advertise that he will attend?"

"By no means," cried the secretary. "If you make any announcement, say that the president absolutely will not be there. If he went to your picnic he would have to attend 700 others, and he would not get a minute's rest."

Then the secretary turned with a sigh to greet a large fat gentleman representing the biggest Republican club in New Hampshire county. "We won't insist that the president speak," pleaded the man. "All we want is to have him appear."

But Taft is not going to appear and the fat gentleman is assured that Secretary Carpenter is plotting the downfall of the Republican party in New Hampshire.

President Still Speeding.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 12.—President Taft's penchant for automobile speeding is alarming the people of Beverly, just as it did the president's friends in Washington a month ago, when he was besought to exercise a bit more regard for his personal safety.

Beverly roads are wide and smooth, and the presidential auto is "hitting them up" for an average of eighty miles a day, most of the riding being done after 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Robinson, the president's chauffeur, is believed to have broken every Beverly automobile decord and also every Beverly automobile speed ordinance.

More than one complaint has been made by persons who claim that they have narrowly missed being "juggernauted" by the president's automobile, but Beverly is so delighted at having been placed on the map by the president that there is a disposition on the part of all the city officials to overlook the "speed bug" that seems to have attacked the president. One complainant offered to stand the expense of a specially-engraved set of automobile ordinances to be presented to the president.

While an invitation to ride in the president's car is an honor that few decline, one experience in the big car as it turns corners on one wheel and whizzes by vehicles with all of two inches to spare is usually enough to cause future declinations.

Big Gasser Struck.

Gallipolis, O., Aug. 12.—A gas well, said to give more than 1,000,000 feet, was struck at Bidwell last night at a depth of 480 feet. Great excitement prevails. Real estate has advanced several hundred per cent.

Not the Viviano Children.

Duncannon, Pa., Aug. 12.—St. Louis detectives who arrived here this morning announced at noon today that they were positive the children held here were not the missing Viviano children of St. Louis.

MURDER SUSPECTED IN RITTER MATTER

Intimations Brought Out at an Inquest.

McCombs, O., Aug. 12.—That Mrs. Ida Ritter, twenty-three, and her baby son, Orville, were murdered by enemies of the husband and father, James Ritter, and are not victims of the woman's own rash deed, was intimated at the inquest here today. Ritter, himself endorsed the theory.

Have you any enemies who might have killed your wife and baby in a spirit of revenge?" asked Coroner Todd.

Ritter half started from the witness chair: "I have," he answered loudly. He refused to give the coroner names.

Ritter's examination was at a public inquest. Scores of citizens attended, as the tragic death of the woman and child has excited the whole community. Citizens generally refused to accept the coroner's preliminary finding announced Wednesday as suicide.

The bodies of Mrs. Ritter and her baby boy, Orville, were found in an abandoned well in the rear of the Ritter home.

THREE ITALIANS SHOT TO DEATH

Four Murders in Three Days as Result of Bad Whisky.

Dante, Va., Aug. 12.—In a general fight late yesterday in a "blind tiger" conducted by an Italian, Clint Trent shot and instantly killed three Italians.

One Italian shot and seriously injured Trent's partner, George F. Thompson, of Bluefield, West Virginia. The Italians atacked Trent, who snatched a pistol from the hand of an Italian and also one from Thompson and fired many times, it is charged.

This is the fourth murder to occur in this mining town in three days, on account of bad whisky being sold in "blind tigers."

C. C. Ambargy, traveling man, of Bluefield, West Virginia, was shot here day before yesterday under practically the same circumstances. The murderer escaped. There is a reward of $500 for his apprehension.

Trent was arrested and taken to Lebanon, Virginia, the county seat. He waived preliminary examination.

AIRSHIP NOT A NEW INVENTION

Annie Doesn't Limit Herself to That Claim.

As a Matter of Fact She Has on Her Claiming Raiment—Was a Blind Girl in India in the Days of Brahma—John D. Rockefeller Is Evicting Thousands of Souls from Their Homes.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Mrs. Anna Besant, of India, noted theosophist, is in town on her way west. She will leave tomorrow for St. Paul. In an interview Mrs. Besant gave some expressions rather interesting and, according to the opinion of many, rather startling.

Mrs. Besant explained that most of her life had been passed in India and that she was a blind girl once in the days of Brahma, an incident that she recalled pertectly. In the course of her interview, Mrs. Besant said:

"I have also been some one extremely distinguished, whom you all know; but there seems to be a rule of the belief against claiming public kinship with the departed who are not represented here to state their side of the case.

"John D. Rockefeller," declared Mrs. Besant, "has started a vivisection school under the name of the Rockefeller School for Scientific Research in which he permits thousands of souls to be driven homeless from their body.

"Airships are not a new invention," continued the theosophist, "they were used in India thousands of years ago."

Mrs. Besant will deliver a public lecture tonight.

BALLINGER IS ON DEFENSIVE

The Secretary Addresses the Irrigation Congress.

SAYS THAT HE IS WITHIN THE LAWS

Farming of Irrigated Lands Not for Poor Man.

That's a Proposition Which He Makes Which Is Vigorously Combated by Former Governor Pardee of California, Who Laments the Passing of Roosevelt's Rapid-Action Policies.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—At the session of the national irrigation congress the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy burst with full force upon the assembled delegates. Former Governor Pardee of California attacked Richard A Ballinger, secretary of the interior, with a fierceness only seconded by that of Former Senator George Turner of Washington, who defended the secretary. Mr. Ballinger entered the auditorium surrounded by a reception committee, and when he arose to speak he was cheered for several minutes. He read from a paper his ideas on reclamation and the public domain. He contended that what has been done by the secretary of the interior was under the law. His speech in part follows:

While the government has invested over $50,000,000 in irrigation works, many times that amount has been invested since the passage of the reclamation act by private enterprise, and it is safe to say that a large portion of these private investments have resulted from governmental example and encouragement, and let me say here that it has not been and is not the policy of the national government in the administration of this act to hinder or interfere with the investment of private capital in the construction of irrigation works, but rather to lend it encouragement. This is particularly true in reference to irrigation under the Carey act in the various states.

While it is possible that persons of limited means may successfully enter and acquire irrigated lands it will generally be found that it is not a poor man's proposition, unless coupled with intelligent industry in agriculture.

I may mention here what has frequently occurred to me as a source of advantage, both to the states and the federal government, and that is the securing from the various states of uniform legislation in the matter of appropriation of the water and its beneficial use, and also legislation looking to the control and conservation of all available water-power.

This congress could accomplish no greater work beyond the stimulation of interest in the development of irrigation than to secure uniform water regulations in the states and also uniform legislation affecting interstate waters.

Secretary Answers Question.

Mr. Ballinger, after his address, would not be disturbed by questions. There is a little note on the published program inviting the delegates to ask questions and enter a discussion with the speakers. Mr Ballinger was not aware of this.

Judge John Fairweather of California asked a question. The secretary answered it and then left the platform. The next speaker was A. C. Campbell, who discussed local aspects of the property rights in irrigation.

Former Governor Pardee then took the platform to deliver the address under the subject assigned to him, but he had no use for his manuscript. He opened by saying that he was for Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies.

"Roosevelt was a president who did things first," said he, "and talked about them afterwards. And that's the kind of men we would like to see in public office now."

Dr. Pardee told of the activities of Former Secretary Garfield, who, under the instructions of President Roosevelt, withdrew from public entry many tracts of land under the belief that these lands should be held for the people. Now, he said, Secretary Ballinger has again put up for entry these lands, and each tract has in its boundaries a water power site.

A resolution asking congress for a national 3 per cent bond issue of $5,000,000,000, to be used in reclaiming arid lands; was introduced by Arthur Hooker, secretary of the board of control of the national irrigation congress.

MILK BOTTLE THIEF CAUGHT RED HANDED

One Subject of Complaint Located Wednesday.

FOLLOWED TO HIDING PLACE IN A BARN

Milk Bottle and Ticket Taken from a North Main Street Residence Is Recovered by the Watchers—A Surprising Discovery Is Made Wednesday Morning.

For some time past complaints have been frequent throughout the city as to the loss of milk bottles, money and milk tickets left on verandahs for the early morning call of the milk dispensers.

At least one thief has at last been located and he was caught red-handed, Wednesday morning, by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sells as he was returning from a raid on north Main street.

As Mr and Mrs. Sells reached the bicycle shop conducted by Mr. Sells on south State street, early Wednesday morning, their attention was drawn to the peculiar appearance of a small black dog, a little fellow not more than eight inches high, traveling south on the opposite side of the street from where they were standing. At first it appeared that the dog had a glass can over his head, but when he came nearer it was discovered that the little fellow had inserted his nose in a milk bottle and was carrying it in his jaws. Prompted by curiosity as to what the animal intended doing with the bottle, Mr. Sells followed him to his home, the Central Delivery company's barn, where he was watched while he carefully hid his booty in an out-of-the-way corner. The animal made his departure without discovering that he had been watched, and Mr. Sells secured the bottle in which he found a milk ticket which had doubtless been put out by some north State street matron for her morning supply of milk.

It is thought the dog has been tapping milk bottles about the city, and finding the bottle empty reasoned that in time it would produce his desired drink. He herefore carried it home to patiently await results.

THE COMING PRIMARIES MAY PROVE A FAILURE

Workers in Both Parties Must Be More Active.

ASPIRANTS FOR THE OFFICES ARE SCARCE

Democrats and Republicans Are Shy Candidates for a Number of the Offices of the City and Time for Filing Petitions Will Expire Next Tuesday—The Situation.

Indications now are that the primaries to be held in Marion county, September 7, will prove a farce unless the politicians of both old parties throw off the present condition of apathy and display a little energy in getting candidates into the field.

Thursday, a member of the Marion county board of elections declared that not one-half of the elective offices in the county would be filled by the electors this fall "All petitions must be filed twenty days before the primaries if candidates desire to be voted on in the primaries," he said. "That means that the time for filing petitions will expire next Tuesday and there have been mighty few petitions filed. In the county it will be necessary for the township trustees to appoint men to fill the vacancies and in the municipalities it will be up to the councils."

Under the law, candidates for office must enter the primaries by proper petition. Otherwise, in November, no one can be elected to any office.

In the country there are at present comparatively very few candidates for office and the probabilities are that township trustees will have a busy time making appointments this fall, election officials say.

So far, in the city of Marion, Claude D. Walters, the present city treasurer, has no opposition, nor has the present city auditor, Harry S. Elliott, according to the records of the board of elections

Two councilmen-at-large must be elected or appointed Only one Democrat and one Republican are out for one of the two offices. Neither Democrats nor Republicans have a candidate for president of the council In the First and the Fourth wards the Democrats are shy candidates, while the same condition prevails in the Second ward with the Republicans

Albert Meredith, president of the Meredith Band Instrument company and defendant in a suit for divorce brought by his wife, Leah, filed an answer in the court of common pleas through Attorney John H. Clark, Wednesday. He admits that he did at one time charge his wife with improper conduct with another man, and says that the charges were true and that he is prepared to prove them. He declares that when she went away in June, 1908, he supposed that she was going home on a visit and fully expected her to return, but that she has never set a date for her homecoming. He declares further that he has always been a true, loving and faithful husband, but that, on the contrary, she proved unfaithful to him.

The answering defendant asks that the plaintiff's petition be dismissed and the temporary injunction restraining him from disposing of or encumbering any of his property be dismissed.

In the suit of the Prendergast company against the Central Christian church, the American Foundry & Furnace company has filed an answer and cross-petition, setting up a claim of $825. It asks that the property be sold and its interests protected.

Maggie Whiley, through Attorney L E. Myers, brought an action for divorce from William Whiley in the common pleas court, this morning. She says that she was married to the defendant, January 7, 1896, and that they have no children. She charges gross neglect of duty and desertion and asks to be restored to her maiden name of Drake.

The defendant is a farmer, and the plaintiff is the daughter of the late Justice F. M. Drake, of Big Island township.

JOHN J. DARMODY BLAMED FOR YELLING

Residents of Grand Rapids Stop the Ball Games.

Almost everybody knows that John J. Darmody recently invaded Grand Rapids, Michigan, but they do not know of the awful results of his trip. Of course, the old second-sacker attended the ball games to see his foromer fellow-townsmen, LaRue and Brown, perform. He enjoyed the contest so well that the next day the local courts declared the game a nuisance on complaint of residents near the park, on account of the noise generated there, and ordered it abated. And now the Grand Rapids team has to play out the remainder of the season at Newark.

Mr. Darmody refuses to admit that he made all the noise, and insists that the Michiganders are supersensitive.

LETTERS GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC

Letters from Mother of Dead Lieutenant

ARE READ IN OPEN COURT AT ANNAPOLIS

Hint That Adams Is Murderer of Young Sutton.

There Is Also a Statement of the Mother's Belief That the Entire Matter Is Arranged by Lieutenant Utley Who Plots Against the Life of Her Son—Refers to Officers as Wild Beasts.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 9.—The fight between Attorney Davis, representing Mrs. James Sutton, and Judge Advocate Major Leonard has reached the breaking point, following the determination of the court of inquiry today to read in public the letters of Mrs. Sutton in which she made a direct charge of murder against one of the officers engaged in the fight in which her son met death.

When the Sutton court reconvened today, Major Leonard moved that, in consideration of the comments made in the press, the records of Saturday's secret session should be made public.

Immediately there was a wrangle between attorneys. The letters, Davis said, were personal letters, such a thing as making them public, Davis said, could do nothing but gratify a morbid curiosity of a court-room throng. Admitting that in her grief and anger, Davis said, the mother had written such letters, they were no more revelant than a street corner talk might be before a grand jury.

Major Leonard angrily replied that he admitted he was curious; that he wanted the jury to know what Mrs. Sutton charged, that there were other mothers to be considered in the matter; that in the public mind several officers stood accused of a crime and the navy department itself stood virtually charged with being a partner to the conspiracy.

Attorney Birney, representing Lieutenant Adams, demanded publicity, too, and the court retired. Three minutes later the announcement was made that the letters were to be read in open court.

Letters To Be Read.

The court stenographers began to read. Attorney Davis sat back resignedly. Mrs. Sutton sat with her eyes fastened on the desk before her. Mrs. Parker hastily left the room.

First the stenographer read the transcript of the secret session till between Davis and Leonard and the refusal of the court to expunge from the records Davis' charge that Leonard had not acted in good faith.

Then came the letters, written, as their tenor disclosed, by a frantic mother to a man she thought was the friend of her dead son.

The letters were addressed to Harry M. Schwartz, said to be a clerk in the paymaster's office in the navy department in Washington.

The first letter to Schwartz was dated at Portland, Oregon, March 13, 1908, five months after young Sutton's death. She said she had found a letter from Schwartz in "Jimmie's" effects and asked Schwartz if he was a friend of her son.

In the letter, Mrs. Sutton asked Schwartz to inform her frankly if he was a friend of the dead boy, and, if so, she wanted to make him her confidant and get his assistance in clearing up the mystery of her son's alleged suicide.

Schwartz evidently replied affirmatively for there were next read letters from the mother covering a period of several weeks, the dates running into May. The following are extracts from these letters:

Extracts from Letters.

"These men rode out in my son's automobile. Adams pulled off his coat when the automobile stopped and went at my son. Osterman knocked him down five times. Adams was on his head and two men on his back. Good God, Mr. Schwartz, to think that my son is dead and the wild men are still walking the streets."

"Do you wonder that I want to die and be with my son." Out of the six there was not one who protected the helpless. I consider them worse than wild beasts, for only beasts destroy the helpless.

"Just a few days before Jimmie died he wrote his father 'Daddy, I feel that they are going to get me. Never mind, I have a fair chance, they will know I have been there.' My poor boy, how little he knew the kind of men he would have to fight. Some of them have called him coward. The men didn't live who could have called Jimmie a coward to his face. Mr. Schwartz, I think that Roelker could tell you something. I don't think he killed Jimmie, but I know the night before Jimmie died, Roelker made a slighting remark about the young lady with my son and he had Roelker retract it.

Show Mother's Grief.

Interspersed with her charges against the officers were paragraphs that described her grief and her intention never to cease her fight to clear her son's name and bring the men accused to an accounting.

"I think," one of the frantic mother's letters to Schwartz read, "that the people will know in the end what kind of people run the navy and how they shield a pack of low brutes."

"Adams, Osterman and Utley's faces are enough to convict them," wrote the mother in another letter, and as this was read out in open court the young officers snickered and an audible ripple of laughter ran around the room.

"I think Lieutenant Utley engineered the fight and that it was all planned in advance," charged the mother in another paragraph.

The stenographer became tired of reading the long letters after a while and Major Leonard, who has rather a harsh voice when aroused over anything, began to read them. His voice penetrated every corner of the room, and it seemed he laid especial emphasis upon that portion of the letter in which Mrs. Sutton declared that when she heard of her son's death, he came to her as in the spirit, told her that he had not died a suicide, but that Lieutenant Adams had killed him and that he was beaten to hide the crime.

As the letter reading was finished Mrs. Sutton was turned over to Attorney Birney for cross-examination. He immediately began to demand proof of the mother's statement. The record itself, she replied, several times substantiated many of them.

A KENTUCKY GIRL WEDS A JAPANESE

Miss Alice Corbin Becomes Bride of Darchiro Wooyeno.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 9.—Miss Alice Corbin of Kentucky, granddaughter of General Henry C. Corbin, formerly adjutant general of the United States army, but now retired, Saturday afternoon was quietly married to Darchiro Wooyeno, a prominent Japanese of Detroit, who recently disposed of a large mercantile business here.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for New York, where they will reside. Their honeymoon will be delayed until 1912, when they will attend the world's exhibition in Tokyo.

The pair first met in Cincinnati, and it is declared to have been a case of love at first sight. Miss Corbin's family raised some objections to her suitor at first, but their consent to her marriage was finally won.

CURE IS BELIEVED TO BE PERMANENT

Fearing She Is To Be Carved, Girl Leaps Through Window.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Fearing that she was "to be carved up," Grace McDonald, colored, nineteen, leaped through a window of the Emergency hospital yesterday and escaped. Several policemen pursued her. The girl finally was captured and returned to the hospital.

Grace thought she was suffering from internal injuries. She was placed on an operating table and when a physician entered with an instrument in his hand the girl made her flight, attired only in a night gown.

After she had been returned to the hospital the physicians said she was well enough to go home and she was discharged. No ill effects having developed today, it is believed the cure is permanent.

JAIL FINE PLACE FOR A VACATION

That's the Verdict of Roland Hinton Perry.

New York, Aug. 9.—Jail, says Roland Hinton Perry, is the best place on earth for a man who wants to do home-studying and can not find the time. Perry, a sculptor, has been in the Ludlow Street jail for four months for contempt of court in failing to pay alimony to his first wife. His second wife and his artist friends visit him frequently. During the time he has been in jail he has read all of Balzac, brushed up on the Elizabethian dramatists and perused many books. He says it's cool because he does not wear a cool because he does not wear a hours' sleep, plays handball and is healthy.

"It's the best vacation I ever had in my life," declared Perry.

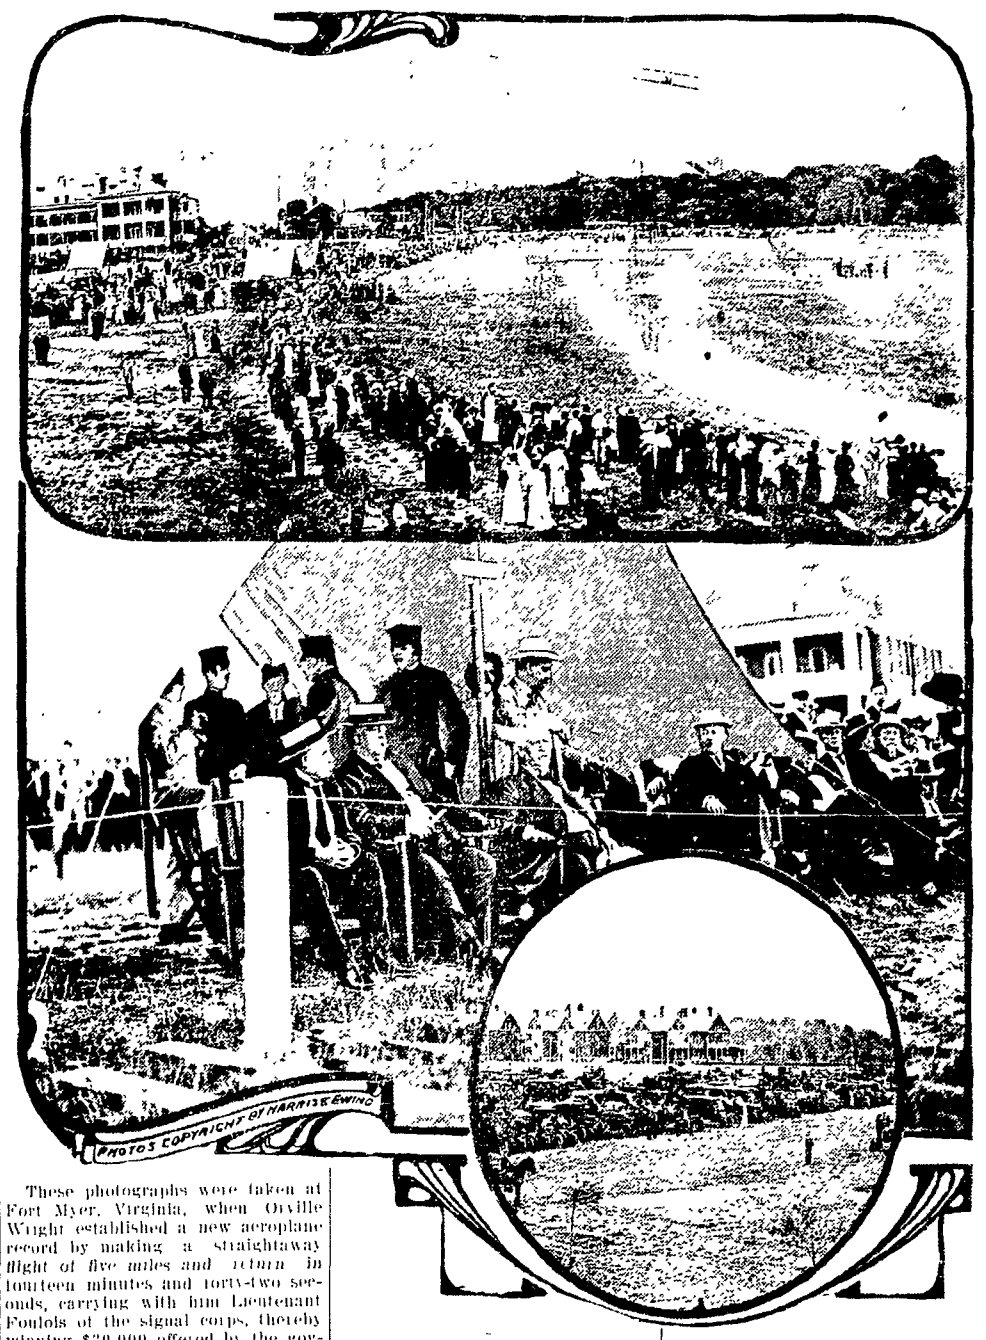
TEN ARE KILLED; TWENTY-TWO HURT

When an Interurban Collides with Freight Train.

Paris, Aug. 9. Ten persons were killed today and twenty-two injured, several fatally, in a collision between a big interurban car and a freight train at Long Jumeau. The interurban was literally torn to pieces and the dead and injured were scattered along the track for 100 feet.

The accident was due to the motorman failing to see the signal displayed.

PRESIDENT TAFT SEES ORVILLE WRIGHT BREAK RECORD AND WIN $30,000 PRIZE



These photographs were taken at Fort Myer, Virginia, when Orville Wright established a new aeroplane record by making a straightaway flight of five miles and return in fourteen minutes and forty-two seconds, carrying with him Lieutenant Foulois of the signal corps, thereby winning $30,000 offered by the government. President Taft and thousands of officials and other prominent people witnessed the flight. One of the pictures shows the president (indicated by an arrow) sitting between Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne in his tent. Mr. Taft pronounced the flight of the aeroplane the most phenomenal scientific demonstration of the age and heartily congratulated the Wright brothers upon the achievement. It is now believed that the signal corps will have no difficulty in obtaining an appropriation for an aeroplane department, for the machine not only met all the requirements, both as to speed, carrying power and dirigibility, but in the straightaway flight won a $5,000 bonus for speed in excess of forty miles an hour. Its speed for the ten mile trip was estimated at forty-two miles an hour. It was the longest straightaway flight ever made on this continent and the longest flight ever made by an aeroplane with two persons aboard.

JAPAN ELATED AT BACKDOWN

Of China in Antung-Mukden Railway Matter.

REAL OBJECTION DEVELOPED MONDAY

China Is Afraid Japan Won't Turn Road Over.

Under the Agreement, Japan Is To Turn the Road Over to China at the End of Fifteen Years—The Feeling Is That Did Japan Intend To Do So She Would Not Be Exploiting Road as She Is.

Tokyo, Aug. 9.—Japan is rejoicing today over the withdrawal of objection to the Japanese plan of reconstructing of the Antung-Mukden railway in southern Manchuria, interpreting China's action as a tacit admission of Japan's present mastery in the situation.

Only the unofficial notification of China's acceptance of Japan's position has yet been received. It is considered improbable here that China will agree to Japan having an absolutely free hand in her Manchurian railway scheme, but her present backdown will result in great courtesy being shown her complaints in the future.

China's real objection to Japan's plans, it developed today, is the fear the Japanese will not relinquish the Antung-Mukden line to China at the end of fifteen years, provided for in the treaty.

A Chinese statesman is quoted in one of the papers as saying Japan would not go to the expense of reconstructing the road, doing it and acquiring a practical zone of influence in Manchuria at the advantage was to be lost at the end of fifteen years. For this reason it is declared that China has made an error in not holding out for a strict compliance with the treaty.

DEATH VISITS LAUNCH PARTY

Two Men and Woman Drowned Near Toledo.

BOAT UPSETS IN A DEEP CHANNEL

Party of Ten Takes a Ride on Maumee Bay.

Causes Frail Craft To Turn Turtle by All Congregating on One Side. One Man Swims Ashore and Fishermen Rescue Six Who Cling to the Bottom of the Overturned Boat.

Toledo, O., Aug. 9. — By the capsizing of a launch in Maumee bay, within 500 feet of the Casino, a summer theater, two men and one woman were drowned and seven men were rescued with difficulty.

The dead: Harry Dill and Frank Lehaney, both railway employes; Mrs. Mabel Hudson, 30.

Dill was the owner of the boat, and took out the party of ten men and one woman over the earnest protests of his wife. When over the deep channel of the bay, near the Maumee river, the launch turned turtle from the weight of the entire party, which had collected on one side.

The woman was in the cabin and was unable to get out. Leo Parnes swam ashore and all of the other men were able to regain the overturned boat and cling to it except Dill and Lehaney, whose bodies were not recovered. The endangered men were rescued by fishermen.

One of the rescuers dove under the overturned boat when it was towed here and recovered the woman's body.

Governor Signs Bill.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 10.—Governor Comer signed the Carmichael prohibition bill in the presence of Mrs. J. B. Hall, president of the Alabama division Woman's Christian Temperance union, and other women.

WHITING MAY GET CALL-DOWN

For His Daring Escape from a Torpedo Boat,

SEVENTY FEET UNDER SURFACE OF WATER

The Young Ensign Goes Out Through Torpedo Tube.

Despite the Inrush of Water He Pulls Himself Out by Grasping the Edge of the Tube and Then Shoots to the Surface of the Water—Other Officers and Members of Crew Not Blameless.

Washington, Aug. 9.—There is a possibility that Ensign Kenneth Whiting, the star swimmer of the navy who made his way to the surface through a torpedo tube from the submarine Pompanito, while she lay under seventy feet of water may come in for a mild reprimand for the reckless nerve displayed in his achievement. Ensign Whiting had an idea that a man could escape from a disabled submarine by making his way out of the torpedo tubes. To prove this he himself made the experiment. By grasping the rim of the outer lid as it was opened he was pulled partly out of the tube despite the inrush of water and succeeded in going upward to the surface.

In discussing the achievement naval officers are of the opinion that had his plans gone amiss or had he lost his grip on the outer rim he would almost inevitably have drowned in the tube. There would have been no way of discovering this until the boat was brought to the surface. The general opinion is that not only Whiting, but the other officers and members of the crew were to blame for this in preparing for such a coming test.

The achievement is the first of its kind in the United States navy and may lead to the invention of some device to enable the crew of a submarine to escape in case of accident.

TREATY SIGNED BY SHERRILL

Reciprocity Agreement with Argentina Is Completed.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 10.—Minister of Foreign Affairs Ceballos and Charles H. Sherrill, United States minister to Argentina, signed a treaty between the United States and Argentina dealing with reciprocity and the naturalization of the citizens of the two countries. The treaty is still subject to ratification by the two governments.

Crowless Roosters.

Herbert Joyce of Springdale, Wash., has for years been experimenting with a peculiar breed of poultry which he says he brought from one of the Sandwich group of islands, in the Pacific ocean. When he first got hold of the wild birds they made a noise not unlike the hiss of a goose. He crossed his wild birds with various types of domesticated poultry and has at last obtained a rooster perfect in all respects with the exception of the crowing ability.

HARD WORK IS AHEAD OF TAFT

Will Decide Upon Census Policy This Week.

GIVES DEMOCRATS FAIR PROPOSITION

Patronage in Solid South Is To Be Divided.

Each Party Is To Have Half Save in the States of North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri Which Are Classed as Debatable and Worthy Party Workers Will Be Appointed.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 9.—President Taft, sitting on the broad veranda of his summer home on Woodberry Point, is the very center of an ideal pleasure ground for a vacation. Secluded there in a beautiful residence park made up of three or four estates and as many palatial cottages, the president will enjoy with Mrs. Taft the cool breezes from the bay and ocean. Looking toward the sea the island-dotted waters of Salem bay are in the foreground, and beyond are the broader reaches of Massachusetts bay. Behind are the woods and the pleasant fields of Essex county, with perfect roads for motoring.

Mr. Taft has several matters of official business before him during the present week. He is going to dispose of the matter of census supervisors throughout the entire United States. Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagle and Director of the Census Durand are coming to Beverly the latter part of the week with a list of names of formidable length, and by the time they leave the president hopes to announce his position.

The president has fixed upon the policy he will follow with reference to census appointments in the south. In the states which are solidly Democratic the president will divide the appointments equally among the Democrats and Republicans. He will insist that the appointees shall not be active partisans, however, but capable men.

Picks Four Debatables.

From the so-called "solid south" the president has picked out North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri as debatable states, and will treat them on the same footing as northern states, giving all of the census jobs to Republicans. He will insist, however, that in these states the same standard of efficiency and character of men shall obtain. The states in which the division between Democrats and Republicans will be made are Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

As to Virginia, the president is represented as believing that the bitterness of the recent primary fight in that state between Henry St. George Tucker and Judge Mann for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination will give the Republicans an opportunity to make an excellent and encouraging showing at the polls next November. Anything he can legitimately do to help the party in the state, it is said, he will gladly do. Several administration officers and possibly a cabinet officer or two will make speeches during the Virginia campaign.

FIGHT TO DEATH IN DARKENED PARLOR

Chicago Italian Kills Wife and Is Wounded in Duel.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Antonio Spizzirri and his wife, Anna, after locking their two children in a bedroom and fastening the doors of their home so the neighbors could not enter in a hurry went into the darkened parlor and fought a duel to the death with knives and revolvers.

The woman was shot twice and stabbed twice with a stiletto and died before the police got there. The husband was shot twice also and probably will die. A revolver and a knife were found near the sofa where the woman lay dead and another revolver was found beside the husband. The scene gave mute testimony of a terrible duel.

Spizzirri turned on his side when the police finally broke into the rooms with a sledge hammer and tore a letter which was on the floor by his side into bits before he could be stopped. This letter was in Italian and will be translated to solve the mystery. It is thought that Spizzirri was jealous of his wife.

PRINCIPALS IN THAW TRIAL, WHITE PLAINS; SPECTATORS LISTENING TO THE TESTIMONY

Harry K Thaw's fight for liberty has not only made vast inroads on the Thaw fortune but also has cost the state of New York heavily The exact cost of the prosecution probably never will be known but it will reach into the hundreds of thousands of dollars Friends of the Thaws are open in their belief that had the defendant not possessed great wealth his defense at least would have been easier Mrs Mary Copley Thaw gave some insight to the tremendous amounts of money expended in the trials when she testified in the sanity inquiry at White Plains She said that Delphin M Delmas who was Thaw's chief counsel at the first trial had received $25,000 as a retainer and that after the trial while the case was being prepared Clifford Hartridge had come to her and said that if Delmas did not receive an additional $25,000 he would quit the case She said she paid the extra $25,000 Mr Delmas has denied that he ever offered to take the case for $25,000 Hartridge is now suing for a large fee The amount of money spent by the Thaws in attorney fees to bring witnesses from distant places and for expert testimony and the gathering of testimony will reach into the millions Thaw announced during the White Plains hearing that he never would cease his fight for freedom while he had a dollar These pictures were taken on the last day of testimony at White Plains Thaw was momentarily called to the stand to answer a question regarding some of the letters written to girls by Stanford White Snapshot No 1 was taken at that moment No 2 shows a row of spectators in court No 3 the former Countess of Yarmouth Harry Thaw and their mother on the way to court The countess and Thaw are holding fans to their faces to prevent being photographed No 4 is Thaw carrying a bundle of papers and fans to court

SCHOOLS MODEL FLAT IN OPERATION

How Chicago Girls Are Taught To Do Practical Housekeeping—Methods

Arithmetic never cooked a meal and spelling never washed a dish but there are several hundred girls in Chicago pupils at the Dante vacation school who will be trained as model housekeepers as well as in reading 'riting and 'rithmetic before the summer is over And while the girls are learning to cook sew and keep house the boys are learning future occupations in the manual arts and crafts departments

A Real Little Flat

A model five room flat in miniature has been installed in one of the class rooms It really is a little flat with walls and partitions and all the furniture and fittings that are to be found in a real apartment The flat is in charge of a teacher of domestic science and the several hundred little girls are divided into classes of about thirty each

It is the task of each class to take care of one room of the flat on a given day In the parlor there is the furniture to be dusted and polished In the bedrooms there are the beds to be made In the dining room there is the table to be decorated and arranged and the linen and dishes to be cared for In the kitchen—most important of all—there are meals to be cooked—real meals and not schoolgirl delicacies Then there is a bathroom to be cared for in the most approved sanitary way

Plan Seems to Be a Success

When each class has completed a "one room course to the satisfaction of the teacher it is assigned to another room of the flat and so on until every class has learned the proper care of every room and has a good foundation knowledge of practical housekeeping.

The plan seems to be a great success declared Assistant Superintendent William M Roberts the other day Mr Shoop supervisor of vacation schools and I were invited out to the school for luncheon a day or two ago We inspected the model flat—and it was model too—and then the children served luncheon of their own cooking I dont remember the menu but it was a good luncheon"

FRAUD ORDER ISSUED AGAINST A CONCERN

Indianapolis Cancer Cure Is Denied the Mails.

Washington Aug 10—The post office department reached out from Washington to Indianapolis and stopped by a fraud order what appears to have been the lucrative business of the Dr Benjamin Bye sanitarium at the Indiana metropolis The inspectors state that the concern offered to cure cancer for $25 by the use of a 'combination oil cure and say that the cure was mostly cottonseed oil and a few common tonic worth only about twenty-five cents

The department concluded that the sanitariums claims as the curing cancer were not well founded in fact and will hereafter refuse the concern the use of the mails

Employes Receive Cards Upon Which They Are To Report Quality and Quantity of Work Performed Outside Influence To Be Barred in Making Promotions in Department in the Future

Washington Aug 10—The treasury department has been hard hit by Secretary Nagles efficiency tests and under Secretary MacVeaghs orders they are to be more sweeping than in the department of commerce and labor

Secretary MacVeagh before leaving for his summer home in Dublin N H appointed the three assistant secretaries as a commission to work out the reform Assistant Secretary Norton was made chairman

Cards have been sent to every employe and to ever chief of a division Every chief will make a report concerning his employes Each employe will make a report concerning himself or herself The cards cover a host of subjects including the quantity and quality of work performed by each employe and the character of employment under which one labors

It is not anticipated that there will be a great saving immediately in dollars and cents but it is believed that it will result in the introduction of labor saving economies and that some practical theory of promotions may be worked out

Political Pulls Barred

Many appointees of the treasury department obtained their places through political influence and in behalf of such appointees promotions have been urged greatly to the annoyance of the officials When an instance of that kind comes to the notice of the secretary of the treasury now the chief of the employes' division will receive a letter as follows

Please say to John Doe that I am confident he is not responsible for the large number of persons visiting the department in the interest of his promotion because he is doubtless familiar with the executive order on that subject of which I enclose a copy

The order in question was issued by former President Roosevelt and forbids employes to use outside influence to gain advancement

A woman has the faith to believe she has

The reason a man has to travel is some other fool made him think it was the thing to do

The only safe way for a man to choose a mate is to get her married to someone else

A woman has a right to imagine a man is in love with her if he is the only one to go to see her

Some men are so naturally absent minded that even when they are with a woman they forget to do or say anything to her

OLD TIES AND NEW WORK.

By William T. Ellis

The International Sunday-School Lesson for August 15 Is Paul's Third Missionary Journey — Ephesus Acts 18 23, 19 22

One of the everyday tragedies of life is the breaking of old ties by progressive persons who have gone into a new life Young people who have left the humble old home to go to college return and find themselves living in a different world which does not speak the language of that in which they are reared All about us we see prominent and successful men and women concerning whose families we never inquire They have had to make a fresh life for themselves Some are all too quick to break with the past and to forget those to whom they owe all but even many who would carry their families and old associates with them find it impossible so to do Paul the scholarly apostle to the Gentiles was nevertheless a Jew and his heart ever yearned for his own people Daily he prayed for them and with all his tact and tenderness and wisdom he sought to keep in close relationship with them Whenever he approached a new community it was to the synagogue that he immediately repaired His pride was that he was a Hebrew of the Hebrews Yet ahead his own people continually cast him out

Despite innumerable mobbings Paul kept his Hebrew affiliations In the present lesson we find him ending his second missionary journey in order to go up to Jerusalem to fulfil a vow He made the long journey up to the city of David—with the unextinguishable love for that spot which his characterized the devout Jew throughout all ages—and in the temple courts he fulfilled all the rites of an orthodox Jew

The Things Men Celebrate

Nothing is said in the record about the reception given the great apostle by the church at Jerusalem Apparently he had no triumphal entry It is more than possible that the Judaized Christians were cold to this apostle to the Gentiles It is more probable however that the historian, with a fine sense of proportion records only the work of the evangelization and not the home jubilations Luke like Paul had a supreme interest in the field

Paul was not one of those missionaries who make more noise at home than they do abroad whose work looms larger in the printed reports and in the telling to home churches than it does before the eyes of those who actually see it on the ground Nor was he of that company of evangelists who employ press agents to report their successes in distant fields to the centers from which they draw or hope to draw a stipend

For to Paul's mind the work was the thing His heart yearned for the battle ground as did Dr Hunter Corbett who would not wait to finish his term as Moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly but who hastened back to his field in China He would rather preach in the Chinese villages than preside and be feted at Columbus functions in America Of him it is told that returning to China from a furlough he began to preach to the natives as soon as he set foot upon the native shore before he had greeted his family

An Echo of the Baptist

An interesting figure enters the story here in Apollos an Alexandrian Jew He was of the type of the scholarly man of his day ready in debate and equipped by research for thorough orthodoxy The Alexandrian spirit which applied the Greek standard of boardship to the Hebrew scripture was personified in Apollos Now Apollos knew John the Baptist teachings and the promised Messiah but he was ignorant that Christ had already come and lived and died Yet he was true to the best that he knew and up to the limits of his knowledge he preached in Ephesus powerfully confounding the Jews

The churches will have not write to the whole of the spirited Apollos and his Alexandrian converts We recall the great body of American Christians and the Coptic church of Egypt and the Orthodox Russian church which through intellectual torpor and spiritual dearth has lost much of the treasure of the universal Christian church We shall wish to them Shall we show in the trimmings of the Christian holiday and theatre? Surely not The emperor of holiness is to lead all the countless from knowledge Upon the best of what have the communities of Christian truth should be erected that happily in the mood of the

That too was the mood of Paul's day Apollos was out of a heretic The wife and two friends of the gospel Aquila and Priscilla who seem ever to have been sufficient to keep in the background and yet help us of one What put the bold as he stands is supposition and unfortunate But we can only imagine When they learned of Apollos's preaching they did not rise up in the synagogue and hurl criticisms at his head nor did they set to flowing that subtle current of censoriousness which is swifter than all the waters that girdle the earth Instead they took him aside and expounded to him fully the way of life Would that our churches were full of Aquilas and Priscillas! Then the preacher who is now criticised for his crudities and rawnesses and blunders and shortcomings would be helped in quite brotherly fashion to fulfill a larger mission Who knows but that even this preacher whose message is so far below the truth you yourself know may yet be a veritable Apollos

Religions Best For All

Ephesus was the great commercial metropolis of Asia Minor It was a city of divers peoples and multitudinous interests Later in Christian history it became known as the home of the Apostle John and the church at Ephesus grew to be a Christian stronghold When Paul arrived there he found a company of believers who had been taught by Apollos When he asked them if they had received the Holy Spirit they displayed lamentable ignorance concerning the truths of the Christian religion Now Paul was eager to perfect those who were headed right as well as to turn those who were headed wrong So he set about along with Aquila and Priscilla to illumine the minds and direct the faith of these stumbling saints The Ephesians were prototypes of that multitude who get only part way into the Christian religion Mr Moody described them as having just enough religion to make them miserable The fullness of joy and peace and power which the Christ's promised heritage to his own are unknown mysteries to them

Undoubtedly too there were rich spiritual manifestations given to the apostolic church than are given now Possibly these gifts of tongues and prophecies and healing were necessary for the pioneering stage of the gospel In any case it must be remembered that these gifts were not an end but a means They were not to be sought for themselves but for what they could bring to pass in the proclamation of Christ Herein is the blunder of the sects who are still arising in our own time exalting to a supreme place what they call the gift of tongues There is a tragic side to the spiritual edition not to say hysteria of those who consider themselves so gifted

On the mission field I heard many stories of companies who had gone out to the foreign field expecting to receive the gift of tongues but not in a single instance were their expectations fulfilled Only a short time ago a large company went from Seattle to Tokyo They thought they were able to speak in Japanese Arrived there they had to be helped home by the missionaries and other benevolent Americans and the great tent which they had taken with them for the holding of meetings probably is still in storage at the Yokohama customs

When Columbo Did Not Fall

It is well to be modest and self distrustful concerning special spiritual abilities Is it not almost incredible that one should be proud and boastful of gifts that are possessed only by the mercy of the Lord If possessed at all Some time ago an independent American missionary in Ceylon who had imbibed various special cults believed that he had a revelation that the city of Colombo was to be destroyed by an earthquake and at the way out a tottering Before the day came he repaired with his friends up to the hill of Kandy and there he awaited the great catastrophe When evening came and there had been no sign of the disaster he telegraphed down to Colombo to know if the city was all there!

Unable to hold up his head in Ceylon after this fiasco he went to South India still without his confidence in special revelations at all humbled He said to a missionary woman on any that he had been told by the Lord that he was to marry her on certain day The young woman thought that she had had a confirmatory message All preparations were made for the big wedding but just before the ceremony the young man reported that he had had another revelation to the effect that he should not get married The young woman and her friends who had their trust in special messages seriously shaken

The Debate in School

Driven by opposition out of the Jewish synagogue Paul carried his teaching and discussions out in the school of Tyrannus There he debated daily with Ephesian Jews Paul was never at all dictatorial by being put out of the church He was no example for the modern preacher who when for one reason or another he loses his pulpit begins to quarrel and fight and create factions over it or else contents himself with withdrawing himself and his influence to his friends If men cared more for the truth than for their own opinions they would simply go out and preach There is no need to quarrel over pulpits There are always plenty of people eager to hear real preaching In every community a man can build up a congregation of the utterly unchurched The marvel is why more young ministers instead of candidating around for calls do not go out into virgin soil and build up their own church There is no joy quite like that of having your own work

Ephesus made Paul and his teaching town talk Not only were many converted and added to him but the whole city was in the throes of a new message had come to the city A living gospel cannot be hid I was interested to inquire on one of a company of Japanese gentlemen in the city of Okayama how many of the people in that city had heard of the Jesus Way Without hesitation they responded that every man woman and child in Okayama knew of the Christian religion

The Defeated Magicians

The Orient still believes firmly in the evil eye There is some reason for this faith at least if we so designate that eye which sees only evil—which looks upon sin and only to covet it which beholds a new movement only to exploit it for personal gain and which conceives of the church only as a money making opportunity Such an evil eye may be found anywhere in the world Every leader of a great movement has had business propositions from these people keen to see the main chance—the modern multitudinous descendants of the seven sons of Sceva

Paul was a healer as well as a preacher and he had worked miracles in the mighty name of Jesus They employed it merely as a magician adopts a new trick from a successful rival The demons knew the real power in the master word Jesus as evil always knows the good So the demon answered Jesus I know and Paul I know but who are ye? Thereupon the demoniac leaped upon them and wounded them sorely so that the incident became a nine days wonder in Ephesus

Best of all the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified Credit went where it belonged Somehow the episode recalls the manly statement of Lieutenant Shackleton the courageous Briton who recently penetrated almost to the South pole who in his written report since returning home has declared that only a special providence saved him from the perils of his trip It was during this period that some power beyond our own guided our footsteps If we acknowledged this as we did down among the ice floes it is only fitting that we should remember it now when the same power has brought us safe home through all these trouble and peril

In honor of the Christ and His power the magicians brought their books to the value of $50 000 and made a vast bonfire of them So there have of late been great bonfires of opium paraphernalia in China Similarly there have been heaps of idols whose burning has spelled out the power of the name of Jesus For from this old Ephesian incident we are reminded that naught should be permitted to stand between a soul and its loyalty to God

NURSE BECOMES BRIDE OF HER BLIND PATIENT

Miss Flora D Weiss Marries Mr Archie Hickman

A ROMANCE BORN OF RECENT ACCIDENT

Mr Hickman Is Blinded by a Premature Explosion—Is Cured for Faithfully by Miss Weiss—Attention Ripens into Love and Young People Join Their Fortunes

The one touch of nature that makes the whole world kin—that was the tender sentiment which first taught Miss Flora D Weiss a nurse of this city to learn to love Archie Hickman who though strong and powerful physically was almost as helpless as a babe because of an accident which robbed him of his eyesight The gentle nurses love resprouted by the big man who had been so dependent upon her was perpetuated in marriage Sunday at Mt Vernon

Hickman whose home is in Wheeling West Virginia had been working as one of the foremen of the Tidewater Pipe company near Green Camp when he was injured in an explosion several months ago At the time it was feared he would lose his eyesight entirely He was taken to the Central Emergency hospital where he remained for weeks A nurse was almost constantly at his side That nurse was Flora Weiss When Hickman was able to leave the hospital and walk about he was accompanied by the nurse Everywhere he went she went with him The things that Hickman saw he saw only through the eyes of the trained nurse She read to him by the hour They became almost inseparable

One day recently Hickman discovered that he could see a bit A cry of great joy sprang from his lips For the first time he was able to get only a glimpse of the girl he had already learned to love

Saturday Hickman asked a friend to buy him a marriage license I don't want any one to know he said Dad is working at Mt Vernon so we'll go there and get married then surprise them

Monday a telegram came saying nurse and patient had been married Sunday

Hickman is slowly recovering his sight

BIG HERD OF OUTLAW BUFFALOES IN WEST

Cannot Be Overtaken or Roped by Experts.

ANIMALS ESCAPE FROM THE CORRALS

The Herd Which Defies All Efforts at Capture Numbers About 200 Fine Animals—Schemes of All Sorts Are Tried To Capture the Buffaloes, but Without Avail.

While the Pablo herd of buffalo in Montana was last year rounded up in part and in part delivered to its purchaser, the Canadian government, there was still a portion not gathered, and as we were then informed not likely to be gathered.

It was known more than a year ago that of the buffalo sold and intended to be delivered there were 150 or 200 head that were absolute outlaws without fear or respect for horse, man, rope or fence. It was impossible to handle these bison. They were ready to fight any one who attempted to drive them, or if they ran they went so fast and so far that they could not be overtaken or if overtaken and roped they threw the horse and his rider and went off with the rope. It was stated at one time last year it looked as if the buffalo could not be gathered for shipping. A train was expected to carry away 200 head at a time when only sixty-nine had been corralled.

After this train was loaded efforts to gather the remaining buffalo failed. The best riders on the Flathead reservation had so many falls and made so many failures that they gave up the work and refused to ride for the buffalo. Word was sent across the mountains to the best riders on the Blackfeet Indian reservation and a number were gathered there to do the work.

Some weeks since it was announced that the roundup had begun and that soon all the Pablo buffalo would have left the United States except those that we had arranged to retain—twelve head of full blooded cows and two full blooded bulls. The statement made those aware of local conditions smile a little, and they were not greatly surprised to see recently another statement declaring that a second attempt by the Canadians to load the Pablo bison for shipment to the Dominion resulted in the corraling of 170 head, or about half the number of bisons purchased and taken away last year.

The work of rounding up is reported to have been hard, and it is said that the bison repeatedly broke through the fences and that many escaped to the hills. It is added that the attempt to gather the buffalo has been abandoned and that the remainder of the herd will be presented to the United States by Canada.

This statement may be received with scepticism, though the Dominion government might perhaps be willing to transfer its contract with Pablo to the United States government or some one representing it. It is not at all likely, however, that many of the remaining Pablo buffalo will ever be transported from the range they have so long occupied. If they or part of them could be transferred to the neighboring Montana National Bison reservation it would be a very fortunate circumstance. They will always do well in this region These buffalo are likely to end their days in the land of their birth—a band of outlaws.—Field and Stream

BARN IS DESTROYED ON GRADELY FARM

Loss of $4,000 Suffered—Covered by Insurance.

A large barn containing over 100 tons of hay was destroyed by fire on the John Gradely farm, four miles south of Waldo, Thursday night at 11 o'clock. The loss, covered by insurance, is estimated at $4,000.

A short time before the fire was discovered Mr. Gradely's hired hand drove home from Prospect and put his horse in a new barn. At the time he said he smelled the odor of burning corncobs and made an investigation but could not find anything. He had scarcely gotten in the house when the old barn burst into flames.

The barn destroyed was built in 1851 and was sixty by a hundred feet in dimensions. The fire is believed to have been due to spontaneous combustion. Considerable difficulty was encountered in saving the new barn, but by constantly pouring water on the roof the fire was prevented from communicating to it.

GOVERNMENT OFFICERS SEARCHING FOR LIMA

Tony Lima Is Said To Have Fled to Italy.

THE OFFICERS TRY TO CATCH HIM IN CITY

Man Is Said To Have Been the Chief Advisor of His Brother—Men Believed To Have Guilty Knowledge of Petrosino Murder—Following "Leads" in the Matter.

Tony Lima, brother of Sam Lima, of this city, alleged Black Hand leader, has fled to Italy, according to information received by the postal authorities. The fugitive, who is said to have been the chief advisor of his brother, is now being sought in Italy, cablegrams having been sent to the authorities at Rome and other principal Italian cities to apprehend the Sicilian.

A warrant has been out for Tony Lima's arrest several weeks. The United States postal inspectors tried very hard to capture him in this city during their several raids, but each time they were disappointed.

Inspector George Soranson, of Cincinnati, says no direct evidence to connect Tony Marfesi and Callagerio Vicario, who were arrested in the raid at Dennison, with the murder of Lieutenant Joseph Petrosino, of the New York police force, has been secured The fact that the men were in Italy when the crime was committed and evidence that the pair when they returned to America sent money back to Italy for the supposed purpose of defending the Sicilians arrested after the killing convinces the inspectors that the two had something to do with the case. However, further evidence, which, though circumstantial, is believed to be the "lead" necessary to unearth proof that Vicario and Marfesi know of the circumstances of the murder of Police Detective Joseph Petrosino at Palermo, is now in the possession of the chief inspector at Washington.

Although all the letters found at the time of the raids carefully avoid direct reference to Petrosino's death, except to threaten contemplated victims with a similar end, there is one which refers significantly to a "certain street scene." Reading the context carefully, the inspectors believe that this "street scene" can only refer to the killing of Petrosino.

The text of the letter has not been made public, but the men who have been working on the Black Hand cases for the department regard it as a very valuable clew and have communicated its contents to the New York police department.

The letter is one of those which passed between the Black Hand chiefs, and not a demand for money sent to some prospective victim.

AN INTERURBAN CAR WRECKED BY A BULL

Passengers from Richwood Fair Are Not Injured.

ANIMAL JUMPS ON TRACK IN DARKNESS

The Car Is Running at High Rate of Speed and Is Quickly Ditched—Accident Happens About Three Miles from Delaware—Some Obliged To Walk to Delaware.

A crowded interurban car, carrying Marion and Delaware passengers enroute home from the Richwood fair, was wrecked by a bull on the Delaware, Magnetic Springs & Northern Railway company's tracks, Thursday night. No one was injured, but many were badly shaken up and frightened when the front trucks passes over the animal's body and jumped the rails.

The wreck occurred a short distance west of the junction of the Bellefontaine and Radnor pikes, in the hollow between the farms of Mrs Anna Miller and Henry Stiffler. All the telephones in that vicinity had been burned out by the storm early in the evening, and the nearest 'phone was found to be at W. D. Pritchard's, nearly a mile away. Volunteers finally offered to make the trip, and from there rigs were summoned to convey those who had not spent all their coin at the fair, into the city. Those who had been willing spenders during the day said little but finally set off through the mud for Delaware, three miles away. The bull was owned by Frank Van-Brimmer, of Warrensburg. It was being pastured at the farm of John Stiffler, and had escaped from the field. There is a curve on the hill just above where the collision occurred, and it is understood the motorman of the car made the statement that he saw the bull standing in the middle of the pike some distance from the tracks On a curve the headlights of the cars do not light the tracks ahead for a short distance, and it is believed the bull darted ahead of the car to escape the light. The car was moving at a lively clip when the crash came.

The car was due in Delaware shortly after 8 o'clock, but it was not until 2 Friday morning that it was replaced upon the rails. A later car from Richwood was tied up, but the liverymen, with an eye to business, were already on the scene with conveyances ready to complete the journey for the passengers.

YOUNG DANIELS IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Is Arrested on Complaint of Miss May Hume.

AN UNUSUAL STORY BEHIND THE ARREST

Relatives of Complainant Think She Is Married to Daniels Until Recently—Young Man Is Recently Released from the Reformatory. Is Arrested at McGuffey.

On a paternity charge preferred by Miss May Hume, of Chicago avenue, this city, Irel Daniels, a son of Perry Daniels, now serving time in the penitentiary for counterfeiting, was arrested at McGuffey, Friday night, and was brought to this city by Officer J. W. Ulsh, of the court of Justice Charles E. Gompf.

At the time Perry Daniels and his son were arrested on a charge of counterfeiting about a year ago, Miss Hume says that she was living at the Daniels home. Her parents in this city thought that she was the wife of Irel Daniels and the girl never told them any different until a short time ago. Daniels, the father, was sent to the penitentiary, and Daniels, the son, received a sentence to the state reformatory. He was afterward released and according to the newspaper reports from Toledo at the time he was married to Miss Minnie Stevens, his sweetheart, who had been arrested at Lima on suspicion of knowing something about the Daniels' counterfeiting job.

Two weeks ago Irel Daniels came to Marion and, according to Miss Hume's story, met her on the street. He asked to see their child, now more than a year old. Fearing that he might kidnap the infant, Miss Hume sought out Humane Officer Ulsh. She wanted Daniels arrested on a charge of non-support, but finally admitted that she had never been married to him and filed an affidavit against him on a charge of being the father of her illegitimate child. She said that Daniels was living with Minnie Stevens, his supposed wife, on the farm of Clayton Daniels, near McGuffey. A warrant was sent to the McGuffey marshal for Daniel's arrest and word was received there Saturday that the young man had been placed under arrest.

Daniels Bound Over.

Irl Daniels, of McGuffey, was held to the common pleas court by Justice Charles E. Gompf, Monday morning, on a paternity charge preferred by May Hume, of this city. Daniels later arranged to furnish $300 bond and he was released. His wife, who was formerly Miss Minnie Stevenson, of Alger, Hardin county, appeared in court with her husband, a son of Percy C. Daniels, a former resident of Marion.

George, aged seven months and ten days, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson Burke, residing north of Marion, died of acute dysentery, Saturday evening. The funeral services were held at the family residence, Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

As he opened the door of his room he received a surprise Instead of the usual stove lid or potato masher for him to dodge came only words

Mr McCaskey reckoned that the benign May moon had softened the breast of his spouse

I heard ye came the oral substitutes for kitchenware Ye can apologize to iffraff of the streets for settin' yer unhandy feet on the tails of their frocks but ye'd walk on the neck of yer wife the length of a clothesline without so much as a 'Kiss me fut' and I'm sure it's that long from rubberin' out the windy for ye and the victuals cold such as there's money to buy after drinkin' up yer wages at Gallegher's every Saturday evenin' and the gas man here twice today for his

"Woman' said Mr McCaskey dashing his coat and hat upon a chair 'the noise of ye is an insult to me appetite When ye run down politeness ye take the mortar from between the bricks of the foundations of society 'Tis no more than excessin' the acrimony of a gentleman when ye ask the dissent of ladies blockin' the way for steppin' between them Will ye bring the pig's face of ye out of the windy and see to the food?'

Mrs McCaskey arose heavily and went to the stove There was something in her manner that warned Mr McCaskey When the corners of her mouth went down suddenly like a barometer it usually foretold a fall of crockery and thinware

'Pig's face is it?' said Mrs McCaskey and hurled a stewpan full of bacon and turnips at her lord

Mr McCaskey was no novice at repartee He knew what should follow the entree On the table was a roast sirloin of pork garnished with shamrocks He retorted with this and drew the appropriate return of a bread pudding in an earthen dish A hunk of Swiss cheese accurately thrown by her husband struck Mrs McCaskey below one eye When she replied with a well aimed coffeepot full of a hot black semifragrant liquid the battle according to courses, should have ended

But Mr McCaskey was no fifty cent table d'hoter Let cheap boarding-house consider coffee the end if they would Let them make that faux pas His was foxier still Fine china bowls were not beyond the compass of his experience They were not to be had in the Pension Murphy but their equivalent was at hand Triumphantly he sent the graniteware wash basin at the head of his matrimonial adversary Mrs McCaskey dodged in time She reached for a flatiron with which at a sort of cordial she hoped to stun the gastronomical duel to a close But a loud wailing scream of wastrum caused both her and Mr McCaskey to pause in a sort of involuntary armistice

On the sidewalk at the corner of the house Policeman Cleary was standing with one ear upturned listening to the crash of household utensils

"'Tis Jawn McCaskey and his missis at it again' meditated the policeman 'I wonder shall I go up and stop the row I will not Married folks they are and few pleasures they have I will not last long Sure they'll have to borrow more dishes to keep it up with'

And just then came the loud scream below stairs betokening fear or direst extremity 'It's probably the cat' said Policeman Cleary and walked lightly in the other direction

The boarders on the steps were fluttered Mr Toomey an insurance solicitor by birth and an investigator by profession went inside to analyze the scream He returned with the news that Mrs Murphy's little boy Mike was lost Following the messenger out bounced Mrs Murphy—200 pounds in tears and hysterics clutching the air and howling to the sky for the loss of thirty pounds of freckles and mischief Bathos truly but Mr Toomey sat down at the side of Miss Purdy millinery and their hands came together in sympathy The two old maids Misses Walsh who complained every day about the noise in the halls inquired immediately if anybody had looked behind the clock

Major Grigg who sat by his fat wife on the top step arose and buttoned his coat 'The little one lost?' he exclaimed 'I will scour the city' His wife never allowed him out after dark But now she said 'Go Ludovic!' In a button tone voice Whoever can look upon that mother's grief without springing to her relief has a heart of stone Give me some 30 or—60 cents my love' said the major 'Lost children sometimes stray far I may need car fares'

Old man Denny hall room fourth floor back who sat on the lowest step trying to read a paper by the street lamp turned over a page to follow up the article about the carpenters' strike Mrs Murphy shrieked to the moon 'Oh an' Mike for Gawd's sake where is me little little boy?'

'When did ye see him last?' asked old man Denny with one eye on the report of the Building Trades league

'Oh well' Mrs Murphy 'twas yisterday or maybe f'm hours ago I dunno' But it's lost he is me little boy Mike' He was playin' on the sidewalk only this mornin' or was it Wednesday? I'm that busy with work it's hard to keep up with dates But I've looked the house over from top to cellar and it's gone he is Oh for the love av hiven'

Silent grim callous the big city has ever stood against its revilers They call it hard as iron they say that no pulse of pity beats in its bosom they compare its streets with lonely forests and deserts of lava But beneath the hard crust of the lobster is found a delectable and luscious food Perhaps a different simile would have been wiser Still nobody should take offense We would call no one a lobster without good and sufficient claws

No calamity so touches the common heart of humanity as does the straying of a little child Its feet are so uncertain and feeble The ways are so steep and strange

Major Griggs hurried down to the corner and up the avenue into Billy's place 'Gimme a rye high' he said to the servitor 'Haven't seen a bow legged dirty faced little devil of a six year old lost kid around anywhere have you'

Mr Toomey retained Miss Purdy's hand on the steps 'Think of that dear little babe' said Miss Purdy lost from his mother's side perhaps already fallen beneath the iron hoofs of galloping steeds Oh isn't it dreadful

'Ain't that right?' agreed Mr Toomey squeezing her hand 'Say I start out and help look for um'

'Perhaps' said Miss Purdy 'you should Put oh Mr Toomey you are so dashing so reckless Suppose in your enthusiasm some accident should befall you then what —'

Old man Denny read on about the arbitration agreement with one finger on the lines

In the second floor front Mr and Mrs McCaskey came to the window to recover their second wind Mr McCaskey was scooping turnips out of his vest with a crooked forefinger and his lady was wiping an eye that the salt of the roast pork had not benefited They heard the outcry below and thrust their heads out of the window

'His little Mike is lost' said Mrs McCaskey in a hushed voice 'the beautiful little trouble making angel of a gossoon!'

'The bit of a boy misdid' said Mr McCaskey leaning out of the window 'Why now that's bad enough entirely The hidin' they'll be different If 'twas a woman I'd be willin' for they leave peace behind 'em when they go'

Disengaging the thrust Mrs McCaskey caught her husband's arm

'Jawn' she said sentimentally 'Missis Murphy's little boy is lost 'Tis a great pity for losing little boys Six years 'tis he was 'Jawn 'tis the same age our'n the boy would have been if we had had one six years ago'

'We never did' said Mr McCaskey lingering with the fact

'But I would I Jawn think what sore we would be in our hearts this night with our little Phelim run away and stolen in the city nowheres at all'

'Ye'll foind him unless' said Mr McCaskey 'tis Pat he would be named after me old father in Antrim'

'Ye' said Mrs McCasker with out malice 'Mr Brother was worth tin dozen big rattling McCaskeys After him would the boy be named'' She leaned over the window sill and looked down at the hurrying and bustle below

'Jawn' said Mrs McCaskey softly 'I'm sorry I was hasty wid ye'

'"Twas hasty puddin' as we say' said her husband and hurry up turnips and get a move on ye' coffee 'Twas what we could call a quick lunch all right and tell no lie'

Mrs McCaskey slipped her arm inside her husband's and took his rough hand in hers

Listening the cryin' of poor Mrs Murphy' he said 'tis an awful thing for a bit of a boy to be lost in this great big city If 'twas our little Phelim I'm 'fraid I'd be broken me heart'

Aw'wardly Mr McCaskey withdrew his hand But he laid it around the heaving shoulders of his wife

'Tis foolishness o' course' said he roughly but I'd be cut up some meself if our little Pat was kidnaped or anything But there never was any childer for us Sometimes I've been rocky and hard with ye Judy I'm sorry I'm it

They leaned together and looked down at the heart drama being acted below

Long they sat thus People surged along the sidewalk crowding questioning filling the air with rumors and inconsequent surmises Mrs Murphy plowed back and forth in their midst like a soft mountain down which plunged an audible cataract of tears Comment came and went

Loud voices and a renewed uproar [illegible] of the boarding house

'What's up now Judy?' asked Mr McCaskey

'Tis Missis Murphy's voice' said Mrs McCaskey 'darling She says she's after finding little Mike asleep behind the roll of old linoleum under the bed in her room'

Mr McCaskey laughed loudly

'That's yer Phelim' he shouted sardonically 'Divil a bit would it but have done that thief If the bye we never had is starved and stole by the powers call him Phelim and see him hide out under the bed like a mangy pup'

Mrs McCaskey arose heavily and went toward the dish closet with the corners of her mouth drawn down

Policeman Cleary came back around the corner as the crowd dispersed Surprised he upturned an ear toward the McCaskey apartment where the crash of irons and chinaware and the ring of hurled kitchen utensils seemed as 'loud as before Policeman Cleary took out his timepiece

By the deported snailes he exclaimed 'Jawn McCaskey and his lady have been fightin' for an hour and a quarter by the watch' The missis could give him forty pounds weight 'n' strength to his arm'

Policeman Cleary strolled back around the corner

Old man Denny folded his paper and hurried up the steps just as Mrs Murphy was about to lock the door for the night

IS CRUSHED TO DEATH IN AN ELEVATOR SHAFT

William Hatley Killed at the Pilgrim Inn.

DIES IN HOSPITAL TUESDAY MORNING

Unfortunate Youth Tries To Enter Elevator When It Is Moving. Body Crushed in a Space of Four Inches and Drawn Up About Six Feet—Life Saving Impossible.

William Hatley, colored, aged twenty-one years, died at the Central Emergency hospital, Tuesday morning at 5:30 o'clock, as a result of being crushed in an elevator shaft at the Pilgrim Inn hotel.

Hatley, who was the night porter had taken a guest to the second floor at 11:20 o'clock Monday night When he stopped the elevator he failed to turn off all the electric current When he returned to the elevator it had ascended several feet and Hatley foolishly attempted to crawl into the remaining opening to stop the "lift," believing that he had plenty of time. He got his head and shoulders through, but his body was caught between the cage and the shaft wall.

With his head and shoulders in the elevator carriage, Hatley was drawn upward a distance of six feet or more through a space of from three to four inches wide. The floor of the elevator caught him across the lower bowels and squeezed him almost flat, yet he did not lose consciousness and for over an hour watched Fire Chief Thomas J. McFarland and several of his men cut him out. It was necessary to chop the floor of the elevator to pieces to release him and whenever the removal of a board pinched him a little more or caused him additional pain, he calmly told his rescuers about it. Once he asked for a glass of water and drank a few swallows.

The unfortunate man's heart had been pushed out of place and the pressure upon it was so great that those close to him say they could hear it beat distinctly every time he breathed Hatley did not seem to suffer any pain while slowly being squeezed to death. "I am all right," he kept repeating, "all I want you to do is to get me out."

Dr. Herman S. Rhu arrived fifteen or twenty minutes before Hatley was released Many hotel guests and outsiders witnessed the work of the firemen in their frantic efforts to save the man. No one saw the accident. Hatley himself told how it occurred while being chopped from the shaft. "I tried to jump in when the elevator was going to stop it and before I could get through it caught me," he declared, with great difficulty.

A safety clutch would have stopped the elevator just above the third floor. Had the elevator gone up a foot or more it would have released its own victim, but it stopped even with the floor, the body wedged between.

The young man's death was due to his own thoughtlessness. Had he let the elevator go and then walked to the third floor, where the safety clutch would have held it, the tragedy could not have occurred.

Following his release from the elevator shaft, the colored youth was given a hypodermic injection by Dr. Rhu and removed to the Central Emergency hospital in the Hess & Markert ambulance. Under the influence of the hypodermic he fell asleep. The terrible strain on his heart soon began to tell, however, and he died.

At the Pilgrim Inn hotel Tuesday morning, it was said that Hatley had been employed there about six months "We don't know much about him," said one of the attaches of the hotel. "He came here from New York state, but that is all we know. I understand that there is an Erie porter who knows him and through him an effort will be made to locate his relatives."

The dead youth was of ordinary height and weight and apparently very strong physically.

One Good Orchard.

While the apple crop in this and surrounding counties will be much below the average this year, there is one orchard in Big Island township which will prove an exception. A gentleman, who has been through much of the rural districts of this and a number of the adjoining counties and has found the indications for the apple crop very poor, states that in passing through Big Island, Monday, he noticed an apple orchard, every tree of which was full of fruit.

MULAI HAFID, MOROCCAN RULER, WHOSE FORCES ROUTED SPANIARDS

The Moors fought with the usual desperation in the attack on the Spanish forces at Melilla and used even better tactics than the Spaniards. In the first skirmish they gave the Spaniards a hard fight, but showed only a part of their force, drawing away to the mountains while the engagement was still in progress. Then when the Spanish forces attacked with a battle line four miles long Mulai Hafid's legions descended upon them, cutting their center and flanking them at the same time. The Spaniards were driven to the walls of Melilla, and Mulai Hafid promptly sent 5,000 more men to reinforce his troops. The small picture accompanying the portrait of the sultan shows him talking to the Spanish minister. It was taken about two years ago.

DETAILED HISTORY OF AN IMPOSTERS WORK

Passes Himself as an Officer in the Army.

HE BEGINS OPERATIONS IN SEPTEMBER, 1905

Fellow Is Now Under Arrest in California—He Leaves a Number of Lodging Bills and Obtains Money Under False Pretenses—Charged with Criminal Assault.

Washington, Aug. 9.—A detailed history of the operations of an impostor calling himself Harry King, and claiming to be an officer of the army, who is supposed to be the person giving that name and who is under arrest in San Francisco, has been issued by the war department. There are two officers named Harry King—Lieutenant Harry L. King, of the First cavalry, and Captain Harry R King, a Philippine scout—but neither of these officers is in San Francisco

The impostor, Harry King, began his operations as long ago as September, 1905, at Mount Carbon, West Virginia, where he left behind various hotel and lodging bills. In 1906 he secured money under false pretenses, and was sentenced to nine months imprisonment. At that time he posed as a nephew of General Charles A. King, retired He is still wanted in Michigan and Ohio on charges of swindling and criminal assault Later, he continued his operations in Texas and in 1907, General Horatio C. King, of Brooklyn, reported that a person of that name, representing himself as General King's son had been swindling in Ohio and Texas.

King's latest operations were in California, and on the Pacific coast as far north as Alberta. He is probably the person now under arrest by the San Francisco authorities.

WILLIAM KLEHM IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

He Is Dismissed in the Court of Mayor Huff.

THE DEFENDANT ESTABLISHES ALIBI

Witnesses Are Introduced To Show That Klehm Is Not at His Place of Business on the Day He Is Alleged To Have Sold Whisky to Prosecuting Witnesses—Review of Case.

William Klehm, employed by Herman Kalkbrenner at the Hotel Nordica, was dismissed from the court of Mayor Huff, at Prospect, Friday, on the charge brought against him by Wilbert E. Stillwell charging that on the morning of July 6, at 9 o'clock, Klehm sold whisky to Stillwell and his partner, J. P. Bennett.

The trial started at 9 o'clock in the morning and was concluded at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The attorneys for the prosecution were J. H. Clark and Eymon & Thompson while Attorney L. E Myers represented the defendant. Stillwell and Bennett were the only witnesses for the prosecution. Both testified that at the hour and date mentioned they purchased two drinks of whisky of Klehm and also a half pint bottle of the wet goods, this being offered in evidence at the trial.

Mayor Scherff, A. W. Bryant, J G. Fairbanks, Patrick Kelly, G. H Foster and Philip Loyer were called as character witnesses for the defendant. The object of the defense was to establish an alibi and the witnesses called for this purpose were H. J. Klehm, Edith Klehm Leonard James, William Halloway and Clifford Gorton. All testified that on the date mentioned in the affidavit, William Klehm spent the entire day at home cementing his cellar and that he was not at the hotel at any time during the morning or afternoon. Receipts were offered in evidence from the Wollenweber company showing that Klehm had some cement delivered to his home on the morning of the date mentioned.

After the argument of the attorneys Mayor Huff stated that it had been proven to him that Klehm was not at the hotel and therefore could not have made the sale and the prisoner was discharged This is the first case heard before Mayor Huff where a verdict of guilty was not rendered against the defendant.

THE GERMAN PREMIER IS VERY THOUGHTFUL

The Personality of the New German Chancellor—Emperor's College Friend.

Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, former secretary of the interior and vice chancellor, who was recently appointed by the kaiser chancellor of the German empire in succession to Prince von Bulow, is a college friend of Emperor William II. They were fraternity brothers in the Borussia corps at Bonn, and during the entire reign of William Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg often has advised his majesty. But he has shown a disinclination to accept high office. He is a man of reserved and thoughtful habits and has been called "the philosopher statesman."

Natural and Simple In Bearing.

He is a tall man with a long face, emphasized by a small, dark, pointed beard. Emperor William often has found rest and comfort in Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's repose of manner and agreeable conversation, and he is one of the few frequenters of the court whose bearing toward his majesty is natural and simple.

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg is of Jewish origin. The Bethmann family left Holland two centuries ago on account of its religion and settled in Frankfort, where the men engaged in banking. His great-grandmother married John James Hollweg, who added his wife's name to his own. His grandfather was the first member of the family to enter public service. He became a professor of jurisprudence at the Bonn university and received a patent of nobility for his learning. Later he was made a member of the Prussian diet and became active in the constitutional agitation of the forties, and ten years later he was appointed to the Liberal cabinet as minister of education.

Often Rode With the Kaiser.

Prince von Bulow's successor is fifty-three years old. In youth he studied law, always the first step to a public career, and was appointed assistant judge. Before he was thirty years old he was made district governor of Oberbarnim and later became provincial president of Potsdam. For three years there he saw much of his majesty, and the two took long walks and rides together It was the doctor's custom to ride out with his majesty in an old tweed suit of sober cut, and he always elected a quiet horse.

Following his sojourn at Potsdam Dr von Bethmann-Hollweg's promotion was rapid. He became president of the government of Bromberg and president of the province of Brandenburg, from which post he took up the portfolio of Prussian minister of the interior. He followed Posadowsky as imperial minister and showed in parliament his powers of plain and effective statement. He is without the graces of expression and the wit of Prince von Bulow, but is a man of convincing thought and substance.

Prepared Important Laws.

Since he became minister of the interior Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg has distinguished himself by preparing an imperial insurance law and a law controlling a right of assemblage, both of which passed the reichstag.

Dr von Bethmann-Hollweg in his political principles is a mild Conservative, but he is most particular in the application to himself of the traditional policy that the servants of the crown must be nonpartisan. While he was district governor of Bromberg the Conservative interests sought to use his influence in a local election, and he explained indignantly, "I am an administrative official, not an election agent."

Prince von Bulow recently said of the new chancellor, "He is a very able man and of a profound nature."

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg possesses an excellent knowledge of the English language and is a student of American affairs

SOME FINE RACING ENJOYED BY PATRONS

Richwood, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—The Richwood tri-county fair closed, Friday night, after a very successful week. The attendance throughout was good and the weather was ideal, everything passed off smoothly, the large crowds each day proving exceptionally orderly. The races were the main feature of the fair and were pronounced by many to have been the best ever seen in Union county. The fastest time ever made on the local track was in the running race Thursday when Buster B and Silver C ran the five furlongs in 1:03. The judges could see no difference in the two horses and the owners agreed to run it off. The horses ran locked until they entered the back stretch, when Buster B drew away and won by six lengths in 1:01. The purses this year were the largest ever offered by the board and the races were a great success. One hundred horses were on the grounds throughout the week. There was a large number of good shows and music by bands from Marion and other cities furnished entertainment for the crowds.

Don't wait until too late.
Be sure to be in time.
Just in time with kidney ills
Means curing the back
Before backache becomes chronic;
Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this.
Here is testimony to prove it.

Henry Strasser, electrician, 221 S. Fifth St., Upper Sandusky, Ohio, says: "I hold a very high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and have every reason for so doing. Four years ago I was taken with an attack of kidney complaint, the chief symptom being backache This steadily grew worse until it was impossible for me to stoop and for one week I was almost helpless, being obliged to quit work Other difficulties proved that my kidneys were out of order and I knew that something must be done. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I obtained a box and them use quickly cured me. I was so greatly pleased to be free from kidney trouble that I willingly gave Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement. Four years have passed and as my cure has been permanent, I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills the second time. Other members of my family have used this remedy and in every instance it has brought the desired benefit."

Mayor Is Requested to Enter Race for Office.

NORRIS CONSENTS TO BE CANDIDATE

Prominent Citizens of Richwood and People Representing the Really Important Interests of the Village Are Included in the Company Visiting the Norris Residence.

Richwood, Aug. 10.—[Special.]—Since the caucus of Friday evening, July 30, when a number of Republicans of the corporation and township named a ticket for the nomination of candidates for the various offices to be filled this fall, a large delegation of the most prominent citizens of Richwood of all parties and every vital business interest called on Mayor Charles S. Norris at his home on east Bomford street, to urge him to declare himself a candidate for reelection to the office of mayor of Richwood. He had not previously declared himself in the matter and his friends were anxious for a declaration. Recognizing the fact that he is a citizen of Richwood and is entitled by his past successful administration to a second term, whatever his personal desires might have been, Mayor Norris consented to stand for renomination as the Republican candidate for mayor of the village before the primary to be held later on.

THE GHOST APPEARS AT BOARD MEETING

Young Man Explains Presence in School-Building.

JANITOR FATZLER GIVES CONSENT

Helps the Young Man to a Duplicate Key That He May Enter Building and Watch for Relative—Some Business of the Schools Is Given Attention at Regular Session.

"I was the ghost or whatever you want to call it," said a young married man to the members of the board of education at a regular session of the board in the High school building, Monday evening. "I was in the building with the permission of the janitor and thought nothing of it until I read about it in the papers, then I concluded to come and tell you about it."

Two weeks ago Janitor Frederick Fatzler, of the Olney Avenue building, reported that he had encountered a strange man in his school building at 9 o'clock in the night. He claimed that he did not know who the man was and what he could possibly be doing. But the man claims that Fatzler did know and so told the board. He said that he had received bad reports of a young woman relative and asked Janitor Fatzler if he could hide in the school-house to watch. Fatzler, he says, gave him permission and even furnished a file to make a key fit one of the doors, so that the man could enter the school-building without any difficulty.

"I was not in the building to do any damage to it," said the man. "I am an American citizen and expect some day to send my children to that building. Mr. Fatzler knew that I was in the building and I don't understand why Mr. Fatzler should do what he did."

President W. B. Spaulding said that he would call a meeting of the janitors to take up the matter with Janitor Fatzler and ascertain by what authority he allowed people the privilege of entering his school-building at night. "I think that it is a matter that the Democrats of this board ought to settle," he said. Fatzler is a Democrat.

"Well, the Republicans on the janitors' committee are in the minority, so it doesn't make any difference," replied Member M. B. Dickerson.

The matter of purchasing drawing books was referred to the textbook committee with power to act.

Chairman Dickerson, of the buildings and grounds committee, reported all the buildings in good condition. He said that the two-room frame building at the Davids Street building was rapidly nearing completion and would be ready for occupancy by the time school opened.

Member J. Wilbur Jacoby said that the teachers had been unanimous for a change in spellers, but that they had not been unanimous for a change in arithmetics. There might be a change in textbooks recommended at the next meeting of the board, he said, although this would not be definitely determined until the textbooks committee held a meeting.

Member Dickerson made a motion that the salary of Janitor Philip Bender, of the Greenwood Street building, be paid just the same as if he had been working. Bender was off several weeks on account of illness and janitors from the other buildings, under the direction of Janitor Superintendent P. S. Wilson, did his work. Dickerson's motion was seconded by Member Jacoby and was carried.

A communication was received from Miss Mena Beerbower, of Lake Bluff, Illinois, requesting that she be given a year's leave of absence. The clerk was directed to inform her that the board had no authority to grant her request, that a new board would be elected by that time. If she cannot teach here next year, Miss Beerbower's position will be declared vacant and another teacher elected at the next meeting. She taught the sixth grade at the Olney Avenue building.

The resignation of Miss Mildred Dombaugh, who is to be married, was received and accepted.

T. C. Bowen was reelected a member of the board of city teachers' examiners for a term of three years.

WILBERT E. STILLWELL IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Robert Taylor Perdue Causes Man's Arrest

CHARGE OF KIDNAPING AGAINST STILLWELL

Detective Is Held for Kidnaping the Wife and Child of the Prosecuting Witness in 1887—The End of a Long Search—Stillwell Is Taken to Upper Sandusky

On a kidnaping charge alleged to have been committed almost twenty two years ago, Wilbert E Stillwell, who has gained much notoriety in Marion and Wyandot counties in the last two months as a result of his being a detective for the Law and Order league, was arrested Monday evening The affidavit for the warrant for Stillwell's arrest was made by Robert Taylor Perdue whose wife and child Perdue claims Stillwell ran away with The warrant was issued in the mayors court at Upper Sandusky late Monday afternoon the sheriff and two deputies coming after the prisoner in an automobile Monday night

The crime of which Stillwell is accused was committed it is charged September 29 1887 At that time Perdue with his wife and two children lived about seven miles south of Upper Sandusky At the time Stillwell is said to have run away with the woman Perdue was en route home from the West where he had gone to seek a location for his family On his return his wife was gone Perdue's two year old child was also gone Perdue further claims that when his wife left with Stillwell and took the youngest daughter the sum of $1 680 which was drawn from the Wyandot County bank and constituted all of the wealth of Perdue and his family was also taken Aside from being left penniless the husband was left a broken hearted man In addition to the two year old daughter Perdue was the father of a girl about five years old This daughter was sent to Mrs Perdue's sister who resided with a half sister Mrs Samuel McClain near Upper Sandusky on the day Mrs Perdue disappeared

From that time on a period of almost twenty two years Perdue's life has been ruined he states His one thought was always of his wife and child and he began a long search for them During this search he has traveled over the United States and into Canada in the hope that in some place he would come across his family or the man who had stolen them away He spent a small fortune in trying to locate his child and quit many paying and responsible positions to change locations with a view to finding them Regardless of his wandering life he never neglected his oldest child and educated her well She later married well and is a highly accomplished and prominent young woman of Battle Creek Michigan She is now Mrs B C Vaughn

For nearly ten years Perdue lived faithful to his marriage vow and in the hope that his wife would return with the child His main object however was to secure his child whom he had not seen since an infant In June 1897 Perdue secured a divorce in the courts at Toledo and at that time was granted the custody of the two children The search for his child was continued and he made every effort to locate his wife or Stillwell with a view to regaining possession of the child. After the marriage of his eldest daughter Perdue went to her home and has for the past few months been working near Battle Creek From the time his wife left with Stillwell he heard nothing of them whereabouts Several letters were received from the wife by her sister Mrs Fred Fussler who resides on Sugar street in this city but they revealed nothing as all had been remailed and bore different post marks

It was through the sister of the runaway wife who resides in this city that Perdue learned the whereabouts of Stillwell The daughter in Michigan having received several remailed letters from her mother was anxious to locate her sister Mrs Fussler sent her the newspaper accounts of the trials in which Stillwell was the prosecuting witness against a number of local people charged with bootlegging On receipt of the clippings the daughter in Battle Creek informed her father and he immediately prepared to come to Marion with a view of making Stillwell reveal the whereabouts of his wife and child The daughter accompanied her father from Michigan as the long separation from his child had caused him to grow desperate at times and she wanted to see that he kept his temper and did no physical injury to his enemy

Perdue in company with his daughter the former wife's sister and the latters husband called on Mouser & Maloney Monday afternoon shortly after their arrival in the city He held a long conference with the attorneys As the alleged crime was committed in Wyandot county he was instructed to employ an attorney at Upper Sandusky and bring the charge against Stillwell there Perdue and the husband of the divorced wife's sister went to Upper Sandusky at 4 o'clock filed the affidavit and returned to Marion in the evening

Stillwell's arrest has caused many of his friends to believe that the action is nothing more than a bit of spite work and was brought about by those against whom Stillwell filed affidavits for illegal liquor selling In an interview with Perdue Monday afternoon the latter stated that he had never heard from any person in Marion or Wyandot county since leaving except through his daughter Owing to his long absence from this vicinity he knows but a very few people and he states that his action is wholly because of his own grievance and without consulting any person except the few he informed after he arrived here Monday While he states that he has no love for Stillwell his chief desire is to learn the whereabouts of the child whom he has not seen or heard from for twenty years

When Stillwell first came to Marion he related the story of how he ran away with Perdue's wife it is stated He refused however to tell anything as to the whereabout of the woman or Perdue's child to even his closest friends In nearly all of the bootlegging trials Stillwell testified that he was not married and never had been Stillwell had little to say concerning the matter Monday evening except that if Perdue wish to know where the child is Mrs Fussler has the knowledge of her whereabout and she is now married

Stillwell was taken before Justice Cook at Upper Sandusky Tuesday morning and his preliminary hearing was set for Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock He gave a bond of $500 for his appearance

John H Clark of this city is representing the defendant

Mr and Mrs Milton Morral left Monday for a two months trip through the West While away they intend to visit Chicago St Paul Yellowstone National park and the exposition at Seattle

TUG IS HIT BY A MIGHTY SEA

Goes to the Bottom Off Cape Ann Today,

ABOUT FIVE MILES FROM LEANESVILLE

Nine of Those Aboard Reach the Shore.

Seven Come Ashore in a Boat and the Captain and One Seaman Reach Shore by Clinging to a Piece of Wreckage—Four Are Believed To Have Been Lost—Tug Sinks Almost Immediately.

Boston, Aug. 11.—Overwhelmed by a mountainous sea off Lanesville, Massachusetts, early today, the United States government tug, Nezinscott, Captain Thomas Evans, turned turtle and sank. Of the thirteen people on board, scattered reports this afternoon from the vicinity of the wreck indicate that four were drowned. They were Dr. Cutler, Seamen Taylor and Edwards and Cook White.

The first notice of the disaster came when one of the tugboats reached Lanesville at 7 a. m. It contained Mrs. Thomas Evans, wife of the captain; his fourteen-year-old son, Harry; Chief Boatswain's Mate Frank Bitters, Chief Machinist George Trott, Seamen Fitzgerald and Undergoin and Fireman Nilesen. They told of the vessel's sinking, and said that Captain Evans and the remainder of his men were surely drowned.

Within an hour after, however, the Gloucester Life Saving crew, cruising in the heavy seas in search of survivors, discovered Captain Evans and Machinist Byfield clinging to a piece of wreckage and nearly dead from from exposure. They were at once hurried to Lanesville. No trace was found of the other missing men, and it is thought certain they went down with the tug.

Story of Wreck.

Boston, Aug. 11.—The United States government tug, Nezinscott, Captain Thomas Evans, bound from Portsmouth, New Hampshire, to Boston, was struck by a heavy sea about five miles off Leanesville, Cape Ann, early today. The tug sank almost immediately in several fathoms of water. Seven got ashore in a boat.

Captain Evans was rescued soon after the wreck and with one of the crew was landed at Leanesville. They clung to a piece of wreckage and were picked up by the Gloucester life-saving crew, which started out after the news of the wreck reached Leanesville.

This leaves four still missing who are believed to have surely drowned.

The tug left Portsmouth at 3 o'clock and was making good headway when a giant sea struck her and keeled her over.

Her End Sudden.

The Neizuscott's end was sudden. Carried high on a mountainous wave, the little vessel failed to right herself, and she sank into the trough and turned turtle without an instant's warning. There was no time to launch the boats in the ordinary way, but Seaman Bitters and a companion grabbed one as it went out with the rush of water, and after the tug had gone down in the ocean, seven were by it saved from the sea. Both Mrs. Evans and her son were nearly exhausted when they were drawn into the boat by Bitters. They had almost recovered however, by the time the castaways reached Leanesville. It was for a time reported that Captain Evans and the other man who went down with the tug had secured a life raft and on that were drifting out to sea. Mrs. Evans and the survivors, who reached Leanesville, declared that there was no time to get a life raft and that the captain and the five others undoubtedly sank with the tug.

CLASPED IN ARMS OF EACH OTHER

Two Young Boys Are Found in a Reservoir.

New Kensington, Pa., Aug. 11.—Clasped in each other's arms, the bodies of Frank Gardner and Henry Hopper, both eight years old, were found early today in the reservoir of the New Kensington Water company by a searching party headed by the father of the Gardner boy.

The boys started out to play about 4 o'clock yesterday, and when they did not return at dark a party was formed to search the woods for them. It was not until an early hour today that the bodies were finally found in the reservoir. The Hopper boy had removed his shoes, but young Gardner did not, so it is believed he attempted to go the rescue of his friend when Hopper got beyond his depth.

UNCLE SAM GIVES LOTTERY A KNOCK

Mails to Cuba Will Be Very Closely Inspected.

Havana, Aug. 11.—Cuba's hope of reaping a rich harvest from American investors in the new Cuban national lottery received a severe set-back today when it was announced that the United States postal authorities would probably exercise a close supervision of mails consigned to Cuba to see that they contained no remittances for lottery tickets.

For this reason Cuba business houses and people generally are notifying their clients and friends in the United States that it will be well hereafter in the sending of checks to Cuba to specify on the checks the purpose for which they are sent. Otherwise, if the circumstance is deemed the least suspicious the checks may be held up pending investigation.

Preparations for the opening of the lottery are rapidly being completed.

ROBERT WOMACK PASSES AWAY

Sells for $500 Property Worth Hundreds of Millions.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 11.—The man who sold the most valuable property in the Cripple Creek gold field for $500 and then went on a spree with the proceeds, is dead. He is Robert Womack, who succumbed to paralysis here after a long illness.

After Womack sold the property, gold worth $280,000,000 was taken from it.

In 1901, while prospecting in Poverty gulch, just outside of Cripple Creek, Womack struck the bonanza known as the El Poso lode of the Gold King property. He could not stand prosperity, however, and came to Colorado Springs for a good time. While under the influence of liquor, Womack disposed of his claim for $500, and started out to "shoot up the town."

Later when he regained his senses, he returned to Cripple Creek and staked out a few claims, but they proved valueless and he was forced to work as a day laborer.

Articles Are Signed.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Articles of agreement for a match for the heavyweight championship of the world were signed today at 1:27 p. m. by Jack Johnson, vanquisher of Tommy Burns, and Sam Berger, representing James J. Jeffries. Berger holds Jeffries' power of attorney and his signature binds Jeffries to fulfill the terms of the article.

TURKEY MUST LOOK PLEASED

Can Find Nothing Off Color in Note of Greece.

Constantinople, Aug. 11.—A special meeting of the cabinet today began the consideration of Greece's reply to Turkey's note concerning the state of Crete. The reply is declared to be so abruptly drawn, denying any intention of usurping Turkey's influence over Crete and leaving the disposition of the island to the powers, that there is little chance of Turkey filing an objection to it for fear of any adverse answer by the powers.

Greece's sincerity in the reply was questioned by several of the cabinet officers, though Foreign Minister Rifaat Pasha took a leading part in counseling against a continuation of the agitation.

FIVE LIVES LOST IN DWELLING FIRE

The Charred Bodies Are Found in the Ruins.

Hancock, Mich., Aug. 12.—Five lives were lost in a dwelling house fire here early today. The dead are: Mrs. John Dionne, Edwar Dionne, 8; Peter Dionne, an infant; A. Minia Dionne, thirty-two, and a girl named Rachue.

The fire broke out when the family was asleep.

The charred bodies were found in the ruins today. Mrs. Dionne got out of the house but returning to rescue her babe, perished in the flames. Her body was found with the infant clasped in her arms. The origin of the fire is not known.

Meteor Explodes.

Winsted, Conn., Aug. 11.—Hundreds of citizens in this vicinity were awakened today by a terrific explosion. Spence R. Woodworth, a night policeman, stated that the noise was caused by a meteor. About 2:30 the heavens were lighted up by a ball of fire which came out of the northwest, passed over the Methodist church steeple and disappeared a few seconds later when he heard the explosion.

Victim of Jealousy.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Following the death today of Walter Detschow, eighteen, as the result of an attack by four boys when he and Maurice Goldstein were walking with two young girls, the police have arrested four youths and are looking for the two girls. The police believe that Detschow was killed as the result of boyish jealousy of his attention to Myrtle Walsh, a pretty girl of sixteen.

It is the after effect of experience that counts.

ASSASSINATION OF HIS BROTHER

Alexander, the Young Crown Prince of Servia,

IS ATTEMPTED BY PRINCE GEORGE

That's General Belief in City of Belgrade.

George Admits That He Hires the Bomb Firer Arrested To Fire the Bomb, but Denies He Intends Harm to His Brother, to Whom He Is Practically Forced To Yield the Heirship.

Belgrade, via Semlin, Aug. 11.—The attempted assassination of Crown Prince Alexander by his brother, Prince George, is openly charged today by many persons here as the result of a bomb explosion near the crown prince's house.

A suspect, arrested immediately after the explosion, confessed that he fired the bomb and said that Prince George hired him to do it. When confronted with the prisoner's confession, Prince George admitted that he had hired him, but declared that he was merely testing a new explosive. With this explanation, the police dropped the inquiry, as royal pressure was immediately brought to bear. The public, however, discredits the story, and believes that Prince George, who has been in a sullen mood ever since he was practically forced to yield the heirship to the Servian throne to his younger brother, deliberately sought his brother's life.

Prince George's record for recklessness and cruelty is such as to doubt this belief.

DYNAMITE USED TO FIGHT FIRE

All Other Weapons Powerless Against Flames.

A FASHIONABLE SUMMER RESORT

Loses Practically All of Its Business Section.

Monticello, New York, Suffers a Million-Dollar Fire Loss Today. Band of Looters Appears and Raids the Unfortunates—The Looters, Principally Negroes, Are Driven Off by Officers.

Port Jervis, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Dynamiting early today stopped the spread of flames that had wiped out practically the entire business of Monticello, the fashionable summer resort in Sullivan county entailing a loss of over a million. Hundreds of summer colonists are temporarily homeless and have lost all personal belongings.

A band of looters who appeared on the scene when baggage and furniture from the burning buildings was piled high in the streets was driven from the town by the sheriff's posse after hand-to-hand fights. Most of the looters were negroes.

Aid was summoned from this town, Liberty and Middletown, when the spread of the flames threatened the business section, but despite the utmost efforts of the firemen, supplemented by scores of weal hy summer residents, the rush of flames could not be stopped. Early today the situation grew desperate, and dynamiting had to be resorted to.

TEN THOUSAND SPANIARDS DEAD

As a Result of the Recent Riots in Catalonia.

Lisbon, Aug. 11.—Twelve thousand Spaniards lost their lives in the recent revolution in Barcelona and other parts of Catalonia according to today's Diario De Noticias which declares its figures are based on the most reliable estimates. The number includes those killed in the actual fighting and hundreds who were either assassinated or executed during the ten days the trouble lasted.

The Diario De Noticias says there is still grave danger of the revolution recurring and sweeping the entire country.

PROPOSES TO TAKE OFF THIRTY POUNDS

Fat-Reducing Doctor at Work on the President.

Beverly, Aug. 11.—Everything else having failed him, President Taft has employed a fat-reducing masseur in a desperate effort to check the onward march of his avoirdupois. Dr. Walker is the masseur and he hails from Boston.

Dr. Walker visited the Evans cottage, this morning before breakfast, as he has several mornings past and will continue to do indefinitely if his "sure cure for obesity" succeeds. For more than half an hour Dr. Walker applied himself to the 326 pounds that make up the president—and this is official despite the usual quotation of 300 pounds. He kneaded the mighty chief, attacked his expansive abdomen, massaged the huge biceps and kept bravely on until every fold of presidential fat had been massaged.

Then the president in decided negligee was taken to the rear yard of the cottage where other fat-fading stunts that required more exertion on his part and less from the exhausted doctor were gone through with.

Dr. Walker bravely asserts that his treatment will trim off at least thirty pounds "before the summer is over."

VERY CONSERVATIVE AS TO THEIR WORK

All That Is Needed Is an Engine That Can Be Trusted To Run Until It Is Stopped by Operator of Aeroplane. Then Travel in the Air Will Be Quite Safe.

New York, Aug. 11.—In the statement made yesterday by Orville Wright, just before sailing on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie that the aeroplane invented by his brother and himself has now been perfected to the point that it can remain in the air for twenty-five hours, and travel 1,000 miles, men interested in aeronautics see the dawning of a new era of locomotion.

In spite of all adulation that has been paid them, the Wright brothers have never made a boast about the powers of their aeroplane. Their conservatism has become a byword, so that Orville's statement has been received with qualification by aeronautical experts.

The only thing that has prevented the Wright brothers from making one of those 1,000-mile trips, Orville declared, was the question of the durability of the motor, which has not yet reached the stage of development attained by the aeroplane itself.

"We can already carry fuel sufficient for a twenty-five-hour flight," said Wright, "but there has not yet been devised an engine which can be thoroughly trusted. What is needed most now in the world of aeronautics is an engine which will not stop until the aviator stops it. When we have such an engine, aviation becomes practicable and safe. Speed is no longer the question."

Wright is going first to England to inspect the factory there that is turning out Wright machines. Then he goes to Germany to make flights in Berlin, upon the result of which will depend many sales to the German government. Wright declares neither he nor his brother was seeking records. They are merely trying to perfect their machine, both as to the engine control and to an automatic balancing arrangement.

Wright is accompanied by his sister, Miss Catherine.

BOYCOTT THREAT ALARMS JAPAN

China Threatens To Use a Powerful Weapon.

Tokyo, Aug. 11.—"Has Japan sacrificed commerce for her political ascendancy" is being generally asked throughout Japan today in view of the alarming reports from China that a national boycott will be declared against Japan if the latter persists in her determination to settle the Antung-Mukden railway dispute regardless of China's protests.

If China should declare a boycott against Japan it would be a staggering blow to Japanese commerce, as China is now one of the leading markets for Japanese goods. Less than a year ago a partial boycott of Japanese goods by China caused immense loss to Japanese merchants and forced concessions from Japan.

Merchants are importuning the government not to act in such a manner as to alienate the Chinese trade.

YOUTH NURSES HIS VENGEANCE

For Six Years Lives To Avenge Relatives,

SLAIN BY NEW YORK ITALIAN

Tracks the Murderer for Eight Months.

Last Night Seventeen-Year-Old Amato Santaniello Fires Five Shots into the Body of Rafal Cascone—Later the Latter Slashes and Stabs His Assailant with a Stiletto.

New York, Aug. 11.—"He killed my brother and my cousin. For eight months I have tracked him day and night. Last night I shot him; I hope he dies," today moaned Amato Santaniello, a seventeen-year-old boy who came from Italy to avenge his brother's murder, shot down his brother's slayer and was himself cut into ribbons by his wounded adversary.

Six years ago Chamarcino Santaniello and Terigo Santiscellio were shot down from behind at the entrance of the Mulberry Bend park, their murderer using a shotgun loaded with slugs. Lieutenant Petrosino, who was later murdered in Palermo by Black Handers, arrested Rafal Cascone. Cascone's brother, Dominico, who aided in the murder, fled to Sicily.

Cascone was convicted and sentenced to death. He spent thirty-two months in the death house, where he had a cell next to that of Albert Patrick. The latter drew up the papers on which Cascone got a new trial. Cascone was transferred to The Tombs, where he had a cell next to Harry Thaw. The latter is said to have put up the money for Cascone to keep up his fight. On his second trial, Cascone was acquitted, laying all the blame on his brother, who had fled to Sicily.

To Atone for Crime.

Cascone was released from The Tombs, November 10, 1907, and in summer clothes and barefooted, walked through the snow to the church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, in east 115th street, to atone for his crime.

Back in Italy relatives of his victim swore eternal vengeance. An elder brother of Chamarcino Santaniello came to America to kill Cascone. Petrosino beat him up with a blackjack and sent him back to Italy.

Amato Santaniello was eleven years old then. He took the oath of vengeance and waited long until he was big enough to come to America and slay his brother's slayer. Eight months ago he came to America. He hounded Cascone for eight months. Last night Cascone walked in front of his all-night cafe on Mulberry street. Amato was behind him. In a twinkling the boy had fired five shots into his body. Cascone fell, mortally wounded. Detectives caught Amato and brought him back to face his dying victim. Cascone, wounded unto death, leaped to his feet and drew a dirk, slashing the handcuffed boy across the face and maiming him for life, if indeed he can live, for the wounded man plunged the dirk several times into his side.

Today Cascone is dying at a hospital; Amato in another hospital, is moaning out a prayer that Cascone dies.

REBATING GOES ON AS BEFORE

According to President Stickney of the Great Western.

New York, Aug. 11.—President A. B. Stickney, of the Chicago Great Western railway, who favored the Hepburn rate bill, declares the law is constantly evaded and that rebating is as prevalent as before the passage of the bill. In a letter to Chairman Knapp of the commission, Mr. Stickney declares that while the "secret rates" to favored shippers have disappeared the rates are reduced as before, but by the concealment of secret rates in the "verbiage of the 500 or 600 tariffs" filed with the commission. Another method he cites is the payment of overcharges and loss and damage claims to large shippers.

BODIES RECOVERED FROM OLD MINE

Three Persons Killed by Coal Gas Near Moline.

Moline, Ill., Aug. 11.—The bodies of three persons killed by coal gas in an abandoned coal mine, five miles east of here, were recovered Tuesday. They are Walter Cole, fifteen; William Cole, twenty-five, and Arthur Harrington, fourteen. Mrs. Cole accompanied by her two sons and neighboring families had gone into the country to pick blackberries. The younger Cole and young Harrington discovered the shaft, tore away the covering and entered. The deadly coal damp overcame them at once and they all fell to the bottom.

Later the elder Cole and his mother discovered the shaft in looking for the two boys and Cole went to the rescue. He never came out alive. Mrs. Cole was about to enter the shaft also when the owner of the mine chanced to pass and stopped her.

PECULIAR DEAL IS DISASTROUS

Ambitious Young Financier Lands in Prison Cell.

COPPER KING IS VICTIMIZED

Deposited Securities Find Way to Curb Market.

Stock Certificates Placed with the New York Trust Company Are Sold for $90,000—Persch, Accused of Larceny, Says Parties Higher Up Are Responsible for the Questionable Transaction.

New York, Aug. 11.—As the result of a deal whereby F. Augustus Heinze, the former copper king, was trimmed to the tune of $40,000, Donald L. Persch, an ambitious young financier, is in the Tombs in default of $50,000 bail.

Persch is specifically charged with the larceny of $40,000, a profit obtained by the sale of 15,600 shares of Ohio copper common and 4,600 shares of Davis-Daly copper common, which an agent for Heinze placed with the Windsor Trust company of this city as security for a loan of $50,000. In some manner, as yet unexplained, the stock was not held by the bank, but was turned over to a clerk acting for Persch, and at the latter's orders thrown on the curb market and sold for approximately $90,000. How Persch obtained the capital to carry through the deal and why the stock was relinquished by the trust company are points yet to be cleared up.

After his arrest Persch intimated that there were men "higher up" in the transaction, but he refused to say more, upon the advice of counsel. He was arraigned before a magistrate and after unsuccessful efforts of his lawyer to have bail reduced to $25,000 was committed to the Tombs, although his counsel later procured a writ of habeas corpus. His examination was set for Friday.

HE WOULD MELT SACRED VESSELS

Would Despoil the Altars of the Church —

FOR DEFENSE OF UNITED STATES

That's the View Taken of Cardinal Gibbons.

Professor J. C. Monaghan Rouses Delegates to the American Federation of Catholic Societies and Catholics Generally to the Highest Pitch of Enthusiasm by His Address on "Socialism."

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 11.—Delegates to the American Federation of Catholic societies and Catholics in general are roused to a high pitch of enthusiasm and excitement, today, following the address on Socialism by Professor J. C. Monaghan, last night in which he declared that if it were necessary Cardinal Gibbons and every priest in the country would melt the sacred vessels of the altar to provide a fund for the defense of the United States.

"My objection to Socialism," said Professor Monaghan, "is that the policy is disloyal to this country. We won't stand for revolution, but evolution under the law. Men who have achieved success did not waste their time with lamentations, like some of our Socialists of today. If the Socialists would look more for opportunities than they do for a chance to stir up discontent, they would be more worth while."

In an address by Bishop McFaul, infidelity and immorality were declared to be "stalking abroad in our land."

The convention of the federation will continue today with the election of officers.

Among the officers elected at today's session were the following:

National president, Edward G. Feeney, Brooklyn; first vice president, J. B. Oelkers, Newark, New Jersey; second vice president, Thomas P. Flynn, Chicago; third vice president, G. W. Stenger, St. Paul; national secretary, Anthony Matre, St. Louis; national treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, Chicago.

The executive board is made up of Most Rev. S. G. Messmer, Milwaukee; Right Rev. James McFaul, Trenton, New Jersey; Walter G. Smith, Philadelphia; M. Cummings, Boston, and John Whalen, New York.

New Orleans was chosen as the convention city for 1910.

OIL KING HAS WARM ADMIRER

Speaker at Irrigation Congress Praises John D.

ROCKEFELLER IS A PHILANTHROPIST

According to View Taken by W. J. McGee.

Secretary of Inland Water Commission Calls Attention to Fact That Standard Could Hold Country Up on Oil Prices, Whereas It Charges Less for Refined Products Than Some Concerns Do for Water.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 11. — W. J. McGee, secretary of the inland waterways commission of Washington, in addressing the national irrigation congress, held John D. Rockefeller up as a philanthropist and as an example for the nation to copy.

The speaker said he admired Mr. Rockefeller He regarded the Standard Oil magnate as a man among millions, and saw no reason why a million other men could not be as successful as he.

Dr. McGee was speaking of water as a thing which in value to the human race, in proportion to all other necessaries, is 100 to 1. He urged the conservation of water on power, irrigation and transportation.

"And yet," he said, "with water thus available and necessary to the human race, John D. Rockefeller charges less for a gallon of oil after it has passed through nine processes than a spring water concern does for a gallon of mineral water that has not been treated in any way.

"I regard Mr. Rockefeller as at once a generous public benefactor and a wise and successful business man. He has had all the opportunity in the world to exact an exorbitant toll from the public, and yet he charges less for oil than is paid every day for common water.

"I say the United States government could do no better than profit by the example of a business man so astute and who so well conserves national resources."

The address of Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, caused something of a sensation.

A resolution was offered urging state legislatures to remit a part of the taxes of the farmers who plant trees along the roads adjoining their property.

THAW GOES BACK TO THE ASYLUM

the decision was filed with the clerk of the court. The Thaws had been trying for two hours to get Attorney Morschauser on the telephone, but without avail. They grew impatient as the time went by and peremptory demands that he come to White Plains were sent to Poughkeepsie.

Attorney Talks.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Attorney Charles Morschauser, who represented Thaw at White Plains, was not surprised at the decision of Justice Mills, believing that Thaw's own conduct at the examination proved his undoing in supporting the state's claim that he suffered from "exaggerated ego." Morschauser left here about noon to go to Ft. White Plains to confer with his client. As he took the train he said to a United Press representative:

"Candidly I rather anticipated this decision. Thaw's own conduct during the trial did not help his case any. Judge Mills payed much attention to Thaw during the hearing and that is what caused me more than anything else to look for the decision that was handed down today. I have not seen the full decision yet, but if the court finds that Thaw is a hopeless paranoic we shall certainly appeal, because such a finding would injure Thaw's chance in future attempts to gain his freedom. If the court simply dismisses the writ, that will be the end of this attempt. We are not discouraged and will try again when the proper time comes. The decision may keep Thaw in the asylum for a time longer, but it does not really prove that Thaw is insane."

A telephone message from Matteawan says that Thaw's former quarters there are being prepared for his return which is expected tonight.

Just Another Outrage.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—This is only another of the many outrages inflicted on Harry Thaw since the time of his first trial," declared Roger O'Mara, former chief of police of Pittsburg and friend of the Thaw family when told that Thaw had been recommitted to Matteawan. "I do not know what influenced Justice Mills to give such a decision."

O'Mara said he believed it was Thaw's money that was keeping him in Matteawan, and that if he had been a poor man he would have been free long ago. "But," he continued, "those fellows over there act as though they were afraid that if they gave the boy justice they would be accused of being bought by the Thaw money."

An effort will be made to have Thaw placed in some other asylum beside Matteawan, according to O'Mara and the case will be taken to the supreme court in order that the commitment may be shown to be illegal.

FATHER MUST SECURE PROPER HOUSEKEEPER

Orders of Probate Court as to Two Children.

LITTLE ONES NOW IN CHILDREN'S HOME

Matter of John Schweckendick Who Is Arrested on Complaint of the Officers of the Marion County Humane Society—The Children Are Badly Treated, It Is Charged.

Atley and Horatio Schweckendick, aged ten and eight years, the motherless children of John Schweckendick, a gardener, are to be taken from the Waddel Children's home and turned over to the father's custody provided that he procures a suitable housekeeper. The children were taken away from the father a short time ago and placed in the home by the Marion County Humane society on charges of cruelty preferred by Mrs. Katie Dunn, a married sister of the unfortunate boys.

In her affidavit filed in the probate court, Mrs. Dunn charged her father, John Schweckendick, with failing to provide a home of the proper environments and with inflicting cruelty upon them.

Every effort was made by the humane authorities for some reason to keep secret the fact that the affidavit had been filed and that the children were removed to the Waddel home. Schweckendick, the father, was arrested and his trial set for 1 o'clock Thursday before Probate Judge W. S. Spencer.

Before the hour of the trial arrived, however, Attorney J. H. Eymon, representing the Humane society, and Humane Officer J. W. Ulsh agreed not to prosecute Schweckendick and the question of whether or not Schweckendick should be allowed to have his children at once or keep them at the home until the father should employ a suitable housekeeper was left to Probate Judge Spencer to determine. The latter declared that the boys should remain at the Waddel home until Schweckendick got a housekeeper.

Both boys, their father, their grandfather, Horatio Hoyles, and several neighbors were in court when the hour set for the trial arrived.

Mrs. Oglevie Gordon, D. S. G., Ph. D., F. L. S., was promoted at the convention of the International Council of Women at Toronto recently from corresponding secretary to vice president. She is a cousin to Lady Aberdeen, who was re-elected president.

AUTO TRAGEDIES CAUSE WIFE TO SEEK A DIVORCE

Mrs. Grace E. Tyson, of New York City and Riverside, Connecticut, has sued her wealthy husband, John H. Tyson, for divorce and alimony in the Connecticut courts. She is a daughter of the wealthy Dr. A. R. Starr, of New York, and her marriage to Tyson, who is heir to millions, was a social event of importance a year ago. Tyson has been arrested many times for speeding automobiles and is now under indictment for manslaughter following an automobile accident. He was also concerned in the automobile tragedy two years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCormac were killed. While Tyson and the McCormacs were racing the McCormac machine struck a tree, and husband and wife were thrown out.

Hay will welcome the delegates

FLATTERING REPORT OF MILITARY WORK

The Summer Maneuvers Held at Fort Snelling.

RIGID EXAMINATION OCCUPIES FULL WEEK

Work Under the Eyes of Inspectors Terminates with Field Operations, in Which the Soldiers Are Spread Over a Battle Front of Six Miles. Officers Much Pleased.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 11.—A flattering report on the condition of the infantry, cavalry, artillery, signal and hospital corps now stationed at Fort Snelling has gone on to Washington as a result of the summer manoeuvers just completed during which Major Miller and other officers as inspectors made a rigid examination of the post and its equipment, the troops and their proficiency in field operations. The work of the inspector and his aides occupied a full week and covered every branch of the service now stationed at the fort. The week's work terminated with field operations between a red and a brown army during which the troops were spread out over a battle front of six miles, and every arm of the service from artillery to field telegraph was brought into use. The crack of rifles and heavy booming of the field guns continued for practically the entire day, until the umpires adjudged the brown army to have caught the reds in such a position that a defeat, theoretically speaking, had occurred.

The rivalry, of which the historic fort now has a strong force, spent a day in the field with the inspectors and made a magnificent showing as it charged across the wide fields of the reservation and engaged in all the manoeuvers shown in the tactics. A forenoon was put in with the artillery and the hospital and signal corps tossed her with the infantry each received its share of hard work.

The inspecting officers express themselves as much pleased with the showing made by the troops and Fort Snelling will occupy a secure position in the favor of the war department for another year.

The fort is an ancient Northwestern landmark. Its old round tower which is still standing, was erected in 1820, a year after the establishment of the fort. At that time St. Paul was an Indian trading post, and its entire growth has occurred since the post was first laid out. Its early development was under the guns of the fort and the protection of the troops stationed there. The fort has been continuously occupied and is now one of the six great army posts of the United States.

IRONTON NEGRO MURDERS GIRL

Charles Davis Cuts Throat of Ella Welch,

THEN SHOOTS HER WITH A SHOTGUN

Girl Is a Mere Child of Thirteen Years.

Murderer Slashes His Throat When Approached by an Officer—Colored People Are Greatly Excited and May Attempt To Take Davis from the Authorities and Lynch Him.

Ironton, O., Aug. 11.—Charles Davis, 35, committed one of the most atrocious murders in the history of the city when he cut the throat of Ella Welch, 13, also colored, and then shot her with a shotgun in the face, causing a wound from which she died an hour later.

Davis boarded with Mrs. Wilkey Welch, whose husband is away from home at work. Sunday night he assaulted the little Welch girl, and from that time kept the entire family, consisting of Mrs. Welch and several children, in the house under pain of death. Mrs. Welch contrived to make her escape, closely followed Davis with a shotgun in his hands. After running several blocks Mrs. Welch ran into a white woman's house, where she was concealed.

Davis returned to the Welsh house, cut the little girl's throat and, as she lay on the floor, shot her in the face. As Officer Harvey entered the front door Davis dropped his gun and fled. Before the officer could shoot Davis dodged behind a stable and cut his own throat.

The colored people are greatly excited and it is believed they may make an attempt to take Davis away from the authorities and deal violently with him.

THOMAS RUPP VICTIM OF SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Strikes a Piece of Dynamite with Sledge Hammer.

HIS LEFT LEG IS BROKEN AS RESULT

Face Is Cut Badly, One Eye Is Hurt and He May Be Internally Injured. The Accident Occurs at the Owens Quarries—The Injured Man Is Brought Here.

Thomas Rupp, fifty-five years old, employed in the quarries of John D. Owens & Son at Owens, lies at the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium in a serious condition, a victim of dynamite. Rupp suffered a broken left leg between the knee and ankle, was partially blinded in one eye and has his face probably permanently disfigured.

John D. Owens, by whom the injured man was employed, states the accident is a rare one in any quarry. The only way he can account for the presence of the explosive, he says, is that it was thrown out as a part of a previous explosion in blasting and failed to explode. However, when Rupp struck it with his sledge, the dynamite very naturally exploded and injured the unfortunate Mr. Rupp. The broken leg and other injuries are due to being struck by flying stone.

Rupp, who lived alone about midway between Marion and Owens, was brought to Marion in the Hess & Markert ambulance and taken to the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium, where Drs. Carl W. Sawyer and J. W. Adair attended him.

Rupp's face is fearfully cut and bruised. He can see daylight out of his left eye, but can not distinguish objects. He may be internally hurt, but the attending surgeons will not be able to determine the full extent of his injuries for a day or two.

Democratic papers carry daily correspondence from the Harmon bureau at Columbus in which the claim is made vociferously and repeatedly that Governor Harmon is turning out the grafters and uncovering corruption If the claim so made and insisted upon is true we submit that the governor is not doing his full duty Grafters and corruptionists should not be permitted to go unpunished except by loss of office and opportunity The information in the governors position should be laid before the courts and the malefactors brought to the bar of justice where they could be convicted and punished or have opportunity to defend themselves against the governors charges Let no guilty man escape but rob no man of the opportunity to defend himself against false charges

One of the municipal candidates in Columbus is advising his people that signers of primary petitions do not have to pledge themselves to support the candidate for whom the petition is circulated This is clearly in violation of the wording and spirit of the primary law which declares that each signer of a nomination paper shall declare that he intends to support the candidate named therein Otherwise the petition feature would be a farce

W J Conners of New York is suing Colliers Weekly for $100 000 damages growing out of the publication of an article which in effect charged Conners with many crimes including assault riot conspiracy and complicity in secret murder In all these charges no conviction or legal evidence was alleged Colliers Weekly has filed an answer admitting the publication but denying malice For some years, Colliers Weekly has been a savage and brutal assassin of character, denying its victims any opportunity to present evidence in defense before the publication of its assaults and giving only the recourse of expensive and tedious appeals to the courts It is to be hoped in the interest of the protection of the good names of citizens generally that Mr Conners who may or may not be a cultured gentleman, may be able to vindicate himself and punish this muckraking magazine and that his example may be generally followed

In all the discussion at Cedar Point with reference to making the income of the state large enough to meet the expenditures the simple expedient of reducing the expenditures to meet the revenues seemed to be overlooked Ohio is a great state and requires a large sum of money to meet the expenses of government and the cost of the extensive system of educational and eleemosynary institutions it maintains But with the necessity for curtailment apparent there must be many places in which expense may be lopped off and unnecessary help dispensed with Taxes of all kinds are high enough Let us have a little economy to help out the present revenues

DUTY INCUMBENT ON ALL GOOD CITIZENS

Every man woman and child of reasoning age has a duty to perform in connection with the primary elections to be held on the 7th day of September next and at the election to follow in November

Every man who is twenty one years of age native born or naturalized and who has been a resident of the state a year of the county of Marion for thirty days and of the ward or precinct for ten days or who can meet these qualifications at the time of the general election unless he has been convicted of a crime and so forfeited his citizenship will have a right to vote at the primary and it is his duty so to do If he is not aligned with any of the party organizations and does not desire to be he may join with others similarly disposed and nominate an independent ticket or candidate and secure a place on the ballot in November

Every woman and every child of reasoning age has influence which can be brought to bear upon those who by the laws invested with the elective franchise

And all have a direct interest and stake in the primaries and in the election which follows The selection of the officers who are to administer the affairs of the communities in which we live is more important to us than the naming of governors congressmen or even presidents They not only have the care and disbursement of the funds raised by local taxation but they have the protection of our health lives and property in their care It is most important that they be carefully selected

Take for example the city of Marion Its government is one of the largest business enterprises in the community Effort should be made to see that the men who are given it in charge are as capable as those chosen to conduct private enterprises of less importance and magnitude

Under the new code the mayor to be elected in November is directly charged with the appointment of the officers who are to clean and police our streets to build and repair our highways and public structures to maintain and extend our systems of sewers and sewage disposal to provide for our water supply to promote and protect the public health to guard the interest of the citizens in dealing with the public contractors and public service corporations and to enforce the laws made by the citizens for the protection of the citizens

This is a large order and it takes a good man to measure up to the office It will not be enough that he shall merely be honest that he is a good fellow that he belongs to this or that church or faction that he is wet or dry that he needs the place or the salary To meet the requirements he must be a high class man of intelligence and wisdom honest of course with a high sense of the honor conferred and the obligation of service He must hold as sacred his oath of office and he must have courage to resist the plea of the selfish as he does the threats of the lawless He should be carefully chosen as you would select the administrator who is to handle your estate in the interest of your wife and children

And the qualifications in degree are required of the other officers who are to be nominated by primary or petition and elected in November

And it is up to you Under the new law no ring or boss so much complained of in recent years can thwart you will if you seek to express it If you are indifferent if you are lazy if you sleep on your rights you have no right to complain if you do not secure the sort of municipal government which you profess to want

The primary law was passed in response to a general public demand It is easily understood and practical in operation Under it every citizen has an equal voice in the selection of his officers Let us see how general is the response to the call to duty

Under the new administration at the Ohio penitentiary the guards have resorted to the playing of ghost to scare superstitious prisoners into good behavior Certainly this falls within the constitutional ban on cruel and unusual punishment and is not only barbarous but dangerous Governor Harmon presidential campaign should be interrupted long enough to have a few fool guards and a warden who seems to be unable to conduct the prison on rational and modern lines

Though King Edward has worn the same crown for the first seven years it does not show the lightest disposition to rest upon the style

EXPLANATION OF THE LAW FOR ELECTIONS

Supervisor and Inspector Sends Out Statement

FOR DIRECTION OF ELECTION BOARDS

Many Inquiries Received by Carmi A Thompson and an Explanation of Various Points of Law Is Found Convenient—Rules To Govern the Coming Election

Carmi A Thompson state supervisor and inspector of elections has issued an explanation of the law in regard to the election of various officers at the next election for the direction of election boards and others as follows

In view of the numerous inquiries that have reached this office and to secure uniformity in holding the coming primary elections I deem it advisable at this time to issue and promulgate the following instructions and suggestions

Absolute verity should be given the affidavit affixed to nomination papers if in the form provided under section No 20 of the primary law until changed under the provisions of section No 21 primary law and 2002 R S There is no objection to the candidate himself making the affidavit to his own nomination papers

Section No 18 provides that names of the signers to any such nomination papers shall be signed in ink each signer for himself If names are signed otherwise the board must use its discretion in receiving the same but if challenged under above sections it might be cause for rejection

A nomination paper may contain a group of candidates that is the names of candidates for more than one office

The ballots should be prepared by the boards from the nomination papers done no blanks being left on the same for offices for which the board has no nomination papers If only nomination papers are received from one party in a political subdivision ballots only for that party need be printed but a full corps of election officers in the precincts of the sub division should be called out to hold the election In case no nomination papers are received from a political sub division such as a township the election officers need not be called out There may however be nomination papers in a village within a township in which event the precinct election officers of the village shall be assigned to duty

Women will have a right to vote at the primaries for candidates to members of the board of education and for this reason separate tickets shall be printed for boards of education to allow women to vote at such primaries The tickets shall be designated as Republican and Democratic tickets but contain only the names of candidates for boards of education These ballots may be cast in separate ballot boxes or in the same boxes that the other party tickets as the board of election deem most convenient and expedient

The names of candidates for assessors of real property shall be printed on the party ballot the same as other candidates

Where villages lying in more than one township or county and not enough vote are in one of the townships or counties to establish a precinct the board should prepare ballots for the accommodation of such voters so that they may vote the township ticket in the township in which they reside and the village or municipal ticket in the municipality in which they reside They will have to vote the township ticket at the township polling place and the municipal ticket at the municipal polling place and the local election officers should report to the board the number of such tickets required The will necessitate the separation of the township and municipal ticket for the accommodation of these voters only The rest of the village and township ticket for said municipality may be printed on one ballot for the municipal precinct the township ticket coming first This is almost the universal practice of the local officers in the first to the polling booth of the village the above separation need only be made to accommodate the voters that would otherwise be prevented from participating in both the township and municipal primary election

Any other provision not inconsistent with the act in any political subdivision in which officers are to be elected municipal nomination papers and tickets put in the coming primaries if it desired to elect a party ticket in the fall It will be entitled to file nomination papers in any political subdivision which at least ten per cent of the vote cast at the last general election which in the case would be the November election held in 1908 cast in any precinct nomination papers received in any political subdivision may for any party have its ballot and return in that political subdivision the board for that party shall count

Where a township or county casting at least ten per cent of the vote in that political subdivision call out the election officers and hold the primary

The board shall provide separate poll books and tally-sheets for each political party participating in the primary and may use their discretion as to the number of poll books and tally sheets required for the proper conduct of the election the same as indicated for ballot boxes

Minor parties casting more than two per cent and less than ten per cent may nominate tickets for this fall election in the same manner as heretofore that is by nomination papers convention or caucus

Members of the board of education who were elected for four years in 1907 will not have their successors elected this fall If any vacancies have occurred in such offices they are filled for the unexpired term

Justices of the peace who were elected in 1907 to succeed justices whose terms did not expire on or before January 1 1908 will have successors elected this fall but those justices who were elected in 1907 to succeed persons whose terms did expire on or before January 1 1908 will not have successors elected this fall for they will hold office for a term of four years The justices appointed to fill vacancies will have their successors elected this fall

Only persons whose names have been printed on the primary ballot by reason of nomination papers having been filed with the board of elections can be voted for at said primary

MERCHANTS' OUTING IS GREAT SUCCESS

Delightful Day Is Passed at Cedar Point.

EXCURSIONISTS ARE WELL ACCOMMODATED

Many Pleasures Found at the Point and the Water Is Fine—Much Interest in the Affair Is Shown by People of All Lines—Return Tuesday Evening

Taking into consideration the fact that the patronage of none of Marion's excursions to Cedar Point or Lake Erie this year has been as large as in former years, the excursion of the Marion Retail Merchants association to the Lake Erie resort Tuesday, was a success Ten hundred and seventy tickets were sold when the officials and those in charge of the excursion only expected 800 people to go on the outing The number was within 100 of the largest excursion ever run by the association

Leaving here at 7 o'clock in the morning the excursionists arrived at Sandusky at 9 o'clock Two engines drew the fourteen coaches There were no tiresome delays on the line

The Marion crowd went almost immediately to Cedar Point from Sandusky and there the day was passed with all kinds of 'joy' thrills to amuse and to entertain

As usual the beach proved the most popular place The day was ideal

"Come on in the water's fine" The familiar cry was formed on the lips of many Marionites and about every man, woman and child in the party donned surf costumes and enjoyed the "lapping of the waves"

Then there was the regular old-fashioned picnic dinner—great baskets of good things that make life worth the living In shady nook and grassy dell—Cedar Point still has its poetic spots in spite of political conventions—were served the chicken, salads and the pie and cake like mother used to bake and countless other things

To show that the Pennsylvania Railroad company officials are really human it is only necessary to state that on the return trip the company attached four more coaches to the train to give the excursionists plenty of room It was recognized that the jolly Marionites would be tired out and needed more space to stretch their legs and rest their backs by having a comfortable seat

The train left the Sandusky dock at 7 o'clock and arrived here at 9 15 p m

The excursion was a very pleasant one said an officer of the merchants association Wednesday Judging from the fact that the merchants in all lines, including even the professional men closed up shop and joined the outing party for the day there must necessarily be much interest in the association the principal object of which is to further the commercial activity for Marion from a retail standpoint"

Marion experienced a bread famine as a result of the excursion Early Monday night groceries and bakeries had sold their last loaf of bread and many housewives baked their own bread, Tuesday, or went without

A PECULIAR SITUATION AS TO INSANE PEOPLE

Marion County's Quota in Insane Asyum Filled.

Unless Insane Patients Are Violent It Is Next to Impossible To Get Them into the State Hospital—The Case of Frank Columbus

Frank Columbus, an inmate of the Marion county infirmary, who was declared insane by Probate Judge W S Spencer will not be taken to the state hospital for the insane at Columbus unless he grows more violent

Our quota at the state hospital is now taken said Judge Spencer Wednesday "and we will have to provide some other way Of course if he becomes violent we can probably get him into the state asylum, but as long as he is not dangerous we can not"

By reason of Marion's inability to send insane people to the state asylum a peculiar situation is faced by the probate court

The only place in Marion county where people suffering from mental derangement may be safely kept is the county infirmary and there is a state law which prohibits the confinement of lunatics at that institution

In the case of Columbus he is already an inmate of the infirmary and now that the state authorities have refused to receive him there is nothing else to do but to keep him in the insane said Columbus has grown violent only two or three times when he attempted to enforce the payment of several mind debts with a club at the infirmary

Dr Keene has been engaged for the cast of "Arsene Lupin."

ALL THE PETITIONS ARE FOUND REGULAR

Candidates Observe the Law in Their Work.

All petitions filed with the Marion county supervisors of election of candidates for nomination to a political office at the September primaries thus far have been regular, according to Assistant Secretary J W Hungate, who is now in charge of the office of the board in the Marion National bank building

Under the ruling of the secretary of state all names on the petition must have added to them the residence number, name of street and the ward in which the signer resides This was not formerly required and hence has not been done in many counties, in which case candidates will be required to procure new blanks.

The latest petitioner for office is Constable James K Redd, Democrat, who seeks renomination

ARE REMINDED OF IMPORTANT STEP

Unusual Proceeding in a Marriage Ceremony

Rev F W Knatz, of the Reformed church performed a marriage ceremony Sunday evening which united Harry Pick of Franklin Pennsylvania, and Miss Nellie Street of Marion, with the matrimonial tie The young couple acted very much as if they were eloping but at any rate they brought three friends along with them, a man and two women, the five making the trip from Marion in an automobile

After trying to induce Rev Mr Knatz to delay the church service in order to marry them they decided to wait until after church and accordingly the ceremony followed the church service Mr and Mrs Pick and then three friends drove merrily home in their car immediately after the ceremony

Rev Mr Knatz was somewhat disturbed by the conduct of the couple who manifested a great disposition to make fun over the affair while the ceremony was in progress The minister was forced to subdue their overflowing spirits by reminding them that this was a very grave and important step they were taking and that they should contemplate it in a proper spirit of reverence The mild rebuke had its effect and the ceremony proceeded uninterrupted —Bucyrus Telegraph

GEORGE KLEHM FINED IN THE MAYOR'S COURT

Man Causes Trouble at Home of Cora Price.

THE ARREST MADE BY OFFICER JOHN FRAME

Police Receive a Report of a Raid Made on the Hardware Store of Herbster & Sons at Prospect—A Number of Revolvers and Other Small Articles Taken—Notes.

George Klehm was arrested at the home of Cora Price, on Edwards street, about 9 o'clock Tuesday evening, by Officer John Frame Klehm was intoxicated He went to the Price home broke the telephone, bric-a-brac and other furniture, and Frame was called to stop him in his destructive work The officer placed a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct against Klehm and the latter was arraigned before the mayor, Wednesday, to answer to the charge He pleaded guilty and was fined $10, which he paid

Burglars entered the hardware store of Herbster & Sons, at Prospect, Tuesday night and secured ten revolvers of the Harrington & Richards and the Ivers-Johnston make, a large number of razors, seventy-five pocket knives of the Cattaraugus make and some other articles The value of the property stolen is estimated at several hundred dollars Entrance to the store was gained by removing a piece of glass from a rear door after which the thief or thieves turned the lock and opened the door It is supposed that the burglar or burglars intended making a wholesale sweep of small articles in stock They carried a checkered buggy robe which was left behind This robe is regarded as the only clue which may lead to arrests The report of the robbery was made to the local police Wednesday

Blaine Smith, a speaker for the Socialist party who hails from Barberton, was arrested on the court house corner, Sunday evening about 8 30 o'clock, by Officer Bell, who placed a charge of disturbing the peace and resisting an officer against Smith For a time it looked as though Smith's arrest would cause a riot as Smith seemed to have many sympathizers in the crowd

Smith was talking on the advantages that would come about if the Socialist party held power An old soldier who happened to pass, listened for a moment to what the speaker had to say, and suggested to Smith that Sunday was not the proper day on which to deliver a speach of that kind Smith directed some remarks to the man who made the suggestion and as a result a general disturbance followed

When Officer Bell placed Smith under arrest, Frank Beard interfered with the officer Acting Chief Bond and Acting Captain Cusic were called and Beard was arrested on a charge of interferring with an officer in the performance of his duties A crowd of over 200 followed the officers and the prisoners to the city prison At the suggestion of the arresting officers the men were not arraigned before the mayor, Monday morning, as the officers wanted to be present at the hearing and both were held until that afternoon

Bessie Jeffries was arrested on Mill street, about 9 o'clock Saturday evening, by Officer Wilhelm and locked in the city prison on a charge of loitering and disorderly conduct The Jeffries woman pilfered a pair of shoes at Webb's boarding-house, Saturday, but the mistress of the house refused to prosecute her When arraigned before the mayor she pleaded guilty to the charge placed against her by the officer, and was given a workhouse sentence of ninety days, the sentence being suspended on her promise to leave the city

A DAY OF ENJOYMENT AT WHITE OAKS FARM

Family of Patients at Sanatorium Picnic.

The family of patients at the Dr C E Sawyer sanatorium picnicked, Tuesday afternoon at Dr Sawyer's White Oaks farm following a merry time at the grove with a toothsome picnic supper Not all the patients could attend, but forty or more were in the merry-making party, and forgot their ills and treatment program, prescriptions and all else "save" wholesome, health-bringing enjoyment

The family was transported to and from the knoll which is the site of a future sanatorium enterprise by wagons and the whole affair was so pleasurable that it was voted a happy and profitable outing

Next year, Dr Sawyer declares, he will have a lake of water on which the picnickers may go boating. There is a lake and dam site there this year, but the waters were too mighty, and have long since gone raging down the little Scioto valley.

COAL OPERATOR SAYS SMOKE'S A BLESSING

Declares the Carbon Contained in Smoke Is a Great Boon to Health

Smoke is a blessing to the world and a boon to health according to a recent statement by W P Rend coal magnate, in reply to an address by Secretary E R Pritchard of the Chicago board of health declaring it a nuisance

This talk about smoke being a curse is all nonsense Mr Rend declared Take the coal operator who is at all times breathing not only smoke but coal dust in addition His lungs are black with both and yet he is one of the healthiest men in the world In all my experience among coal operators I know of only one who died of tuberculosis

"The carbon in the smoke is a boon to health As the smoke ascends the carbon contained in it kills germs of every kind of disease and purifies the air and it is this that this new class of 'reformers' would do away with"

It is far easier to mend a broken heart than a broken rib.

AN ERIE PASSENGER STRIKES A VEHICLE

Two Instantly Killed and Woman Is Fatally Injured—Dying Mother Identifies Mangled Bodies—Erie Engineer John Murphy in Charge of Train—Railroad Notes.

Two bodies the body of a fatally injured woman, a mangled horse and a wrecked buggy found near a railroad crossing at Morton Center, a short distance from Akron Thursday constitute the toll of a grade crossing tragedy which must have occurred last night Mrs Lottie Troutman, of Wooster, believed to be fatally injured, was taken to a hospital at Barberton, where she revived sufficiently to identify the bodies as those of her five-year-old daughter and William Reid, of Wooster Reid is survived by a widow and three daughters

Engineer John Murphy, who left here with Erie passenger train, No 4, Wednesday evening, struck the rig in which the party was riding but knew nothing of the accident until the break of day revealed the tragedy Thursday morning

A Columbus paper is stirring up all kinds of trouble for the P & O C railroad management Tuesday, the state railroad commission had Moulton Houk, the P & O C passenger agent before it and adjourned the complaint until Hudson Fitch the general superintendent, can be heard from Rev W S Priest pastor of the Central Christian church, is the complainant On August 3 he says, he went to the railway station here to take the morning train for Detroit He purchased his ticket the night before and was assured then that this train would make his connection at Detroit for Brayton Plains Michigan, his destination but it failed to do so and the reason was that it was held at the station here for one hour after the scheduled starting time for a fishing party of thirty seven persons that is to be carried to Michigan Rev Mr Priest claims that in effect the company took off the regular train for the day and ran a special for the fishing party

Another complaint against the road is that recently when one of its trains was late arriving here it was posted one hour late, but before reaching the city the train made up ten minutes and left the station here only fifty minutes late the result was that those who were governing themselves by the posted time were left

In its proposed action in these matters the railroad commission is insisting that railroads owe it to the traveling public to follow such one of unavoidable accidents the time tables published and when a train is off time the arrival bulletins must correct a bulletin its progress

Clinton and David Porter James Belcher and L M Thompson returned Tuesday evening from a month's trip through the West The party took in the Seattle exposition

DAMAGE IS DONE BY CANADA THISTLES

Heavy Winds Drift the Filmy Stuff Till the Passing Trains Are Delayed.

In the heavy windstorm in which Logan county, Kan, recently suffered much loss for forty eight hours, the greatest damage was done by the inoffensive Russian thistle, more commonly known as the tumbleweed The weeds, which are about the size of a half bushel measure and almost round blew over the prairie by millions packing in the cuts along railroad rights of way and delaying traffic.

On the streets where the building made a shelter from the gale, they were piled to the tops of awnings like an immense haystack, accumulating overnight

THAW'S MOTHER RENEWS ATTACK

Says All Manner of Mean Things About Jerome.

WOULD ROB HIM OF ALL CREDIT

Issues Statement Criticising Decision Which Says Son Is as Crazy as On Day He Shot White and Sends Him Back to Matteawan Asylum—Next Move Will Be Attempt to Secure a Hearing Before a Jury of His Peers.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 13.—In a statement criticising the action of Justice Mills in declaring Harry K. Thaw insane as on the day he shot Stanford White, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw raps District Attorney Jerome for the part he played in the recent hearing. She says:

"Let no one imagine for a moment on reading this opinion of Judge Mills that it means a victory for the district attorney of the county of New York. One by one the delusions with which he and his alienists started out were proven, each by the mouths of several witnesses, to be stubborn facts, that would not down at his bidding. Every prop was taken from under that arrogant, vindictive persecutor of a sane, acquitted man.

"So baffled was he that when he rose to make his closing speech (for argument it was not), he had more the appearance of a schoolboy compelled to say a piece than the sometimes courageous, mature sophist who dominated the court of his own judicial district except when wealthy malefactors are under trial.

"It is impossible to fathom the workings of the human mind, and so the reason for this totally unexpected and cruel decision of the trial judge must remain a mystery.

"Meanwhile, my son, my daughter and I have no alternative but to take up again the burden I had every reason to believe was behind us forever. We, exiled from our two homes and all the regular flow of life, will remain close to the gate, and so help the son and brother to endure an existence which, if perpetual, would be far worse than death itself, trusting in God's overruling providence in His own good time to vindicate the right."

Jerome Is Supported.

There is no crumb of comfort for Thaw in the 7,000-word opinion handed down by Justice Mills. All the contentions of his old adversary, District Attorney Jerome, are supported, and it is declared that Thaw is still insane, still suffering from persistent delusions, and still as much a paranoiac as on the day he shot Stanford White.

Justice Mills in his opinion reaches three formal conclusions: That Thaw was insane when he killed White; that he has not yet recovered, and that public peace and safety would be endangered by setting him at large. He upholds District Attorney Jerome's contentions that Thaw still cherishes delusions regarding the practices of Stanford White and his associates. He characterizes Evelyn Thaw's tale of the Madison Square tower room and similar stories about White told at the sanity hearing as "wild and grossly improbable, evidently to any normal mind grossly exaggerated." He asserts his belief in the testimony of Susan Merrill regarding Thaw's alleged pervert practices, and points out the contrast between Thaw's chivalrous attitude as a protector of young American womanhood and his private life.

Thaw, waiting in the White Plains jail, at the rear of the courthouse where the decision was filed, received the news with an outward calmness, which appeared, however, more forced than real. The members of the family and his attorney seemed stunned by the thoroughness of their defeat. Thaw declined to give out any extended statement, contenting himself with the assertion that he was not disheartened and would at once continue his fight for liberty. "My next efforts," he said, "will be centered upon the court of appeals, through which I expect to secure a hearing before a jury in my effort to have my commitment to Matteawan set aside."

TO ARREST BUSINESS MEN

Tipton Bank Official Said to Have Had Accomplices.

Tipton, Ind., Aug. 13. — Assistant United States District Attorney Nichols returned to Tipton and said he was prepared to issue warrants for the arrest of several business men, charged with complicity in the alleged embezzlement of Noah R. Marker, assistant cashier of the First National bank.

Several secret service men are in the city. It is said that the persons charged with being accomplices of Marker are associated with him in land deals in Canada and Texas, in which a great deal of money has been invested.

It was announced that the bank would be reopened tomorrow. A shortage of about $150,000 in its funds has been covered from the private funds of the stockholders.

VAN SANT ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

Grand Army Selects New Officers at Encampment.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 13.—By a vote of 587 to 256, Samuel Van Sant of Minnesota was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic over his opponent, Judge William A. Ketcham of Indiana.

In addition to Commander Van Sant the following officers were elected: Senior vice commander, W. M. Bostaph, Ogden, Utah; junior vice commander, Judge Alfred Beers, Bristol, Conn.; surgeon general, W. H. Lemon, Lawrence, Kan.

Mrs. Jennie L. Berry, Des Moines, Ia., won in a fight for the national presidency of the Woman's Relief corps. After three ballots she was elected over Mrs. Belle Harris of Kansas by 213 to 90.

A poll indicates that the chances of St. Louis for the forty-fourth encampment are much brighter. Atlantic City, the other aspirant, does not want the encampment in August, and the veterans are loath to change the month of meeting.

HAS FAITH IN AIRSHIPS

General Grant Talks to Veterans of Philippine Service.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13. — The third day's sessions of the convention of the Army of the Philippines were marked by the speech delivered by Major General Frederick D. Grant, commander of the department of the lakes, who said:

PUTS STRIKERS OUT OF HOMES

Pressed Steel Car Company Orders Wholesale Evictions.

SHERIFF REFUSES TO DO WORK

Asks For Assistance In Removing Furniture and When Turned Down Tells Deputies to Cease Labors. Situation at McKees Rocks Becomes More Strained by Killing of Foreigner Who Took Part In Attack on Negro Strikebreaker.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—Work of evicting strikers and their families from houses owned by the Pressed Steel Car company at McKees Rocks has been discontinued by Sheriff Gumbert. Acting under court orders, the sheriff and his deputies began the work of conveying the goods from the strikers' homes to the streets. The sheriff asked the Pressed Steel Car company to give him men to carry out the furniture and household effects, but the company, it is said, refused.

"Then I will not allow my deputies to carry out another piece of furniture," declared the sheriff. The Pressed Steel Car company will now be forced to carry out their own evictions.

More rioting, during which a foreigner was shot and killed, caused excitement in the Schoenville strike zone. Major Smith, a negro, said to be employed at the car plant as a strikebreaker, shot and killed Steven Horvat, one of the striking workmen. Smith, it is said, was attacked by several foreigners, and declares that he shot in self-defense. The negro is held at the county jail on a charge of murder. Witnesses to the shooting declare Smith fought at a great disadvantage and only fired when his life was endangered and while lying on his back on the ground.

WERE SHY ON SILVER

Amateur Counterfeiters Arrested Soon After Passing Bad Coins.

Hamilton, O., Aug. 13.—Secret Service Agent Bolan of Cincinnati views the arrest of George Kalber and Walter Burlew on the charge of passing bogus money as important. The dies and molds used in making the spurious money are pronounced by Bolan to be as fine as any he has ever seen. Both men have confessed to the secret service officer.

"After I left the Western Union messenger service," Kalber said, "about seven years ago, I got a job at Mosler's safe works and learned the machinist trade. Several years ago I commenced experimenting on the dies for making counterfeit coins. Last May I got a good die of a 50-cent piece out of a casting of 60 pieces. I told Walter Burlew what I had done and showed him some of the coins. He said, 'Let's pass them.' We did, and we were arrested 30 minutes later."

The officers say that had the men used a little more silver and less lead in the coins, only an expert could have detected their spuriousness.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Live News From All Parts of the Buckeye State.

McComb, O., Aug. 13.—To clear up the mystery of the death of Mrs. James H. Ritter and baby, whose bodies were found in an abandoned well near their home by the woman's husband, Coroner C. D. Todd began an inquest. Ritter injected a hint that some one might have entered his home on the night of the tragedy. He testified that he awakened early in the morning, imagining he heard a scream. He found that his young wife was gone with the baby from the room down stairs, and was led to the discovery of the bodies by finding the boards removed from the well. The coroner asked him if he had any enemies who might seek revenge on him. "I have," said Ritter, but declined to say anything more on that line. Mrs. Samuel Wolf, a neighbor, testified that she heard some confusion in the house during the night, but no words.

Akron, O., Aug. 13.—William Reed, 40, a prominent business man of Wooster, O., and 5-year-old Evelyn Trautman were instantly killed and Mrs. Guy Trautman, her mother, perhaps fatally injured by being struck by a passenger train, while driving across the Erie tracks at North Center, near Barberton. Roach of the North and West Side lines, and the prompt acceptance of the same by President William Quinlin of the North and West Side Streetcar Men's union, all possibility of a strike appears to be over.

DELEGATE TALKS LIKE ANARCHIST

Threatens to Blow Up Power Company's Dam.

WOULD FLOOD CITY OF SPOKANE

Speakers at National Irrigation Congress Keep Ballinger-Pinchot Feud In Limelight—Two Defend Acts of Secretary of Interior In Restoring Public Lands to Entry—Former Governor Pardee Disclaims Intention to Make Charge of Dishonesty.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 13.—John Farson, millionaire banker of Chicago, and Former United States Senator Wilson of Washington, came to the defense of Secretary Ballinger before the national irrigation congress, and succeeded in keeping the so-called "Ballinger-Pinchot feud" in the public eye.

Dr. Pardee started the controversy by questioning a statement by a speaker. He again accused Secretary Ballinger of permitting the opening for entry of valuable water power sites.

This brought Mr. Farson to his feet asking Dr. Pardee if he meant to insinuate that the secretary was dishonest. With Dr. Pardee's reply that he meant no such insinuation, the incident was dropped.

W. W. Ferrell of Ferrell, Ida., attacked the Washington Power company, which supplies power to Spokane. "I have been a settler in Idaho for 25 years," he shouted, "and there are many who have worked hard to make homes. And now, after a quarter of a century, the Washington Power company, one of the many which threatens our lives, has dammed up our valley, overflowed our lands, drowned out our crops, and many are about to lose their very means of livelihood.

To Dynamite Dam.

"There are men in my town who will smash that dam with dynamite and send a 40-foot wall of water down this valley, and what will happen to Spokane will make the Johnstown flood look like a common shedding of tears if something is not done."

Former Senator Wilson replied: "There may be those who do wrong in this land. There may be water power companies that disobey the law, but I want to say here that I stand for Richard A. Ballinger and I shall hear no man say he is dishonest. If it is necessary, I am here to defend Ballinger's superior — President Taft. What they have done they have done under the law. It is for the people to support the government and not the government the people, and for this reason I say that private enterprises should reclaim these deserts."

One of the interesting addresses of the day was that by Mrs. Emmons Crocker, a delegate from the Federation of Women's Clubs. She said that women first came on a par with men when President Roosevelt invited Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker to attend the gathering of governors to discuss national conservation.

TRUST SEEKS REDRESS

Brings Suit Against Tin Mill Strikers at Newcastle.

Newcastle, Pa., Aug. 13.—Fifty-six of the striking employes of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company's plants in this city were served with summons to appear before the United States circuit court at Pittsburg in September to answer suit for $200,000 damages, entered by the American company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation.

The bill of particulars states that the American Sheet and Tin Plate company have $10,000,000 invested here and employ 3,000 men. The American company claims the 56 defendants have conspired to prevent 3,000 employes from working peacefully. It is alleged also that the profits of the company have been affected by the actions of the defendants in preventing the company from operating its plants.

The cashier handed over the box in his hand, containing $1,500 in currency, and the robber, after hurriedly rifling the money drawer of $1,000 more, escaped through an alley.

THIRTIETH REUNION OF THE DIX FAMILY

A Company of Forty Attends the Gathering.

PLEASING PROGRAM ENJOYED AT PARK

Various Members of the Family Relate Incidents of Family History. E. A. Bishop Delivers an Address of Welcome—Clark A. Dix Makes the Response—An Ideal Day.

The thirtieth annual reunion of the Dix family was held at Lincoln park, Tuesday, about forty decendants of the family being in attendance. While this is the smallest number which has gathered at any of the reunions of the family, it detracted but little from the entertainment, although the program was much shorted than was anticipated. The day was ideal and the decendants of the family began gathering early in the morning.

When it was thought that nearly all who intended coming were present, the meeting was called to order by the president, P. E. Dix, of Delaware. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Seitz, the address of welcome was made by E. A. Bishop, of this city, followed by a response by Clark A. Dix, of Delaware. This part of the program was followed by an elaborate dinner, after which the program for the day was continued. Mrs. Caroline Edlebute, of Chicago, delivered an address, and a musical selection by W. W. Dix, of Prospect, followed. "Scottish Chiefs," a poem which has been read at all of the reunions of the family, was read by the president. Various members of the family related incidents of the history and the past reunions, the business session following. The program of the afternoon was concluded with prayer by Rev. M. Seitz and a song by all present.

The committee which arranged the program and had charge of the day's entertainment was composed of E. A. Bishop, Dr. M. M. Dix, Clayton Dix, George Dix and Mrs. Kate Ekelberry.

At the business session, the former officers were elected. They are P. E. Dix, of Delaware, president; C. S. Dix, of Prospect, secretary; W. W. Dix, of Prospect, treasurer. George Dix was made chairman of the committee for arranging the program for the reunion next year. It was decided to hold the next reunion, the third Tuesday in August of next year, at the home of C. D. F. Dix, one mile east of Delaware.
